Four-Power Conference Convenes

Marshall Will Press for Pact to Keep Germany Disarmed, Demilitarized

Blasts U. S.

New Times, Voice of Soviet Raps U. S., British Policies

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Moscow, March 10 (AP)—The Four-Power conference of foreign ministers opened with little ceremony as a snowstorm swirled over Moscow today.

The ministers drove over snow-covered streets to the meeting place, the House of the Soviet Aviation Industry, two miles from the Kremlin. A handful of curious Russians saw them.

Secretary of State Marshall was the first to arrive, reaching the building about 15 minutes before the session was scheduled to open at 5 p. m. (19 a. m. Eastern Standard Time). Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith accompanied Marshall.

The next to arrive was Georges Bidault of France.

The grinding of movie cameras attracted various Russians, including workers who were cleaning the streets with snow removal equipment.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and his deputy, A. Y. Vishinsky, arrived together. They apparently were the only ones of the Four-Power group recognized by the spectators, who broke into a wave of handclapping. Molotov nodded curtly.

The last to arrive was Britain's Ernest Bevin, who passed almost unnoticed by the police.

Marshall announced just before the meeting that he would press for agreement on a Four-Power treaty to keep Germany disarmed and demilitarized.

From the absence of ceremony it was apparent that the Russians wanted to impress upon everyone the "businesslike" character of the conference.

Hits U. S. Policies
But the weekly New Times, generally regarded as the voice of the Soviet foreign office, blasted U. S. and British policies on Germany and Austria, and singled out three of Marshall's advisors for personal attack.

Privately, western diplomats expressed themselves as highly uncertain whether any real progress would be made in treaty drafting. East and west seemed mutually suspicious, each apparently believing the other to be maneuvering for control of Germany.

The conference opened under the chairmanship of Molotov around a green baize table in the gleaming council chamber of the House of Aviation Industries, more than two miles from the Kremlin.

Marshall, arriving by plane yesterday, said there undoubtedly would be "great difficulties" in the Moscow negotiations. He noted that there had been difficulties in past treaty making.

"But they have been met successfully," he concluded, "and I have confidence that we will, by peaceful methods of negotiation, reach agreements which will greatly advance the cause of peace which we are all so much interested."

Marshall also emphasized that "the mission on which I have come is one of tremendous importance and consequence for all mankind." On this point alone, Marshall and the New Times seemed agreed.

The weekly said the conference "will in many ways determine the course of development of intercourse of development of intercourse."

Kingston Bakers Expect to Raise Bread Price Soon

Local bakers had not increased the price of bread today but most out of town bakery concerns serving Kingston stores put a one cent increase in effect today, bringing the price to 15 cents.

Inquiry among local baking concerns brought out the fact that while there had been no increase as yet, there was a probability that the increase would become effective shortly on local baked bread.

The increase in price has become effective over most sections of the nation and the reasons are increased cost of ingredients and other production charges. A scarcity of cars to ship grain to the mills and the great amount of grain which is going overseas also contribute to the present shortage and high price of flour, according to the baking industry.

Heaviest Gains Are Shown in Machine Shops; Textile, Clothing Drops Off

Average weekly earnings in manufacturing in the Kingston-Newburgh-Poughkeepsie region of the Hudson valley were $47.09 between December and January, Victor T. Holland, assistant industrial commissioner, announced today.

Manufacturing in the area dropped 0.4 per cent and payroll gained 0.1 per cent in January, the report said.

Figures are based on an analysis by the Bureau of Research and Statistics, Division of Placement and Unemployment, State Labor Department.

Machinery plants showed heaviest gains while textile and clothing mills, operated with employment losses of less than one per cent in January when production was slightly below the December level.

Hires Helicopter
New Bedford, Mass., March 10 (AP)—Unable to receive regular deliveries because of a picket line, the strike-bound Cornell-Dubilier Electric Corporation plant has hired a helicopter to get raw materials into the yards. The helicopter made several flights with raw materials to the plant yesterday.

A management spokesman said that finished electrical products would be delivered by air unless the 32 striking clerks, warehousemen, stock room clerks and checkers return to work.

Hillman Gets State Job
New York, March 10 (AP)—Henry Hillman of Ellenville, a former staff writer for the New York Daily Mirror, is the new executive assistant of State Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein. Appointment of the 34-year-old Hillman was announced yesterday by Goldstein.

Wife of Royal Hasbrouck Finds His Body With Head Almost Off After Blast

Royal A. Hasbrouck, 48, a well driller, who resides just outside the village limits of Ellenville committed suicide by shooting himself about 6 a. m. today in the rear of his residence, according to an official verdict given by Coroner Arthur B. Chipp.

Hasbrouck ended his life by placing the muzzle of a "30-30" caliber rifle in his mouth and discharging a shot by means of a rag he had wound around the trigger. The terrific blast of the high-powered rifle normally used for deer and big game hunting almost tore Hasbrouck's head off, the coroner said.

The tragedy was discovered by Hasbrouck's wife who was in the kitchen of their home at the time. She found the body of her husband slumped over a table in the dining room and rushed to the back yard where she found her husband sprawled on the ground.

Worried Over Eyes
There was apparently no motive for the suicide, the coroner said, although Mr. Hasbrouck is reported to have been quite concerned over failing eyesight. He was said to be of an extremely nervous temperament.

A native of Woodstock, Mr. Hasbrouck had been in partnership with his brother, Aaron, of Woodstock, in the well-drilling business for a number of years. He had been living in and around Ellenville for the past 22 years.

Surviving Mr. Hasbrouck in addition to his wife Katherine Hasbrouck is a foster daughter, Uldine Lent, who has been in the family for the past five years.

Coroner Chipp, summoned by Mrs. Hasbrouck upon discovery of the tragedy and Troopers Bianna and McDonald of the Wurtsboro station also investigated. The body was turned over to Pulling's Funeral Home of Ellenville.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Police Say France Auto Ran Into Schwark Car

A car owned by Walter Schwark, of 64 Minton street, Port Ewen, which was parked at the curb near 52 East Strand about 11:45 o'clock last night was struck and damaged by another vehicle operated by David France of Woodstock, according to the police.

The Schwark car sustained a broken bumper and front fender, while the right rear fender and hub cap of the France vehicle were damaged, police said. Officers Guernsey Burger, Jr., and Walter J. Van Steenburgh investigated.

Week-End Fires Take 10 Lives Throughout U. S.

(By The Associated Press)
Fires and explosions, one of them a spectacular natural gas explosion in Oklahoma, caused the deaths of 10 persons over the week-end.

One man was killed and four others injured in the explosion last night at a gas compressor station near Blackwell, Okla. For more than an hour, a 100-foot column of flame roared up from the station.

Three men trapped by flames in an Indianapolis rooming house were among the 10 victims. Two children were burned fatally when their home at Des Moines, Iowa, went up in flames.

A Chicago apartment fire cost three lives. A 79-year-old man in Norwich, N. Y., died after his clothing caught fire.

In York, Pa., about 175 guests escaped injury in a fire at the seven-story Hotel Colonial which caused damage tentatively estimated at $350,000. Police said the guests evacuated the structure "like a rehearsed drill."

Another destructive fire in which no one was injured swept a city block of Danville, Va.

In Philadelphia, a fire raged for two hours last night across the street from Independence Hall, for a time threatening the city's landmark.

Twenty-four firemen were overcome by smoke in a fire, confined to the ninth floor of the Sheraton Hotel, resulted in no casualties.

In New York city, seven firemen were burned by sticky, burning chemicals that exploded in the basement of a factory building where they were "wetting down" after bringing a blaze under control.

President's Daughter Ill

Dewey Concentrates on Pushing Through Controversial Legislation

ALBANY, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—Confronted with more outside protests than at any time since he took office, Governor Dewey concentrated today on pushing through the legislature a host of controversial measures before final adjournment in a week or 10 days.

The Governor was reported determined to obtain passage, without fundamental changes, of bills to outlaw public employee strikes, establish permanent minimum pay schedules for teachers, permit localities to raise $111,000,000 a year by special taxes, continue the rent control laws and levy additional taxes to pay off the $400,000,000 veterans' bonus debt.

In addition, Dewey was understood to be contemplating proposing some form of housing legislation.

Other proposals expected to provoke hot debate in the legislative adjournment drive include bills to assure redress to employers contributing to the unemployment insurance fund and to provide ben-

3 Firemen Injured Sunday At Deyo Street Factory Blaze

Says Gottfried Had Ability and Got Scarce Items

C. G. Commander Testifies Sugar Trial Figure Saved $500,000 for the U. S.

New York, March 10 (AP)—Harold Gottfried, president of the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corp., of Ellenville, N. Y., saved the government about $500,000 in the construction of the Coast Guard and Merchant Marine Training Stations at Sheephead Bay, Brooklyn, Lt. Cmdr. Edward F. Wagner testified in federal court today.

Wagner had charge of all continental and overseas construction for the Coast Guard during the war.

Gottfried and his corporation are on trial before Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins and a jury charged with falsification of O.P.A. forms concerning the corporation's sugar consumption for 1941.

Gottfried, Joseph M. Forman, former corporation counsel for Kingston, N. Y., and William T. Stanton, also of Kingston, a former Albany, N. Y., O.P.A. investigator, also are on trial charged with conspiring to defraud the government out of Stanton's impartial services in connection with Stanton's investigation of the Ellenville corporation.

Cmdr. Wagner said Gottfried entered the coast guard as a Junior Lieutenant in the commissary department, but that his ability to get things accomplished in a hurry and in "expediting hard-to-get items" resulted in his transfer to the construction branch of the service.

Sent to Expedite Program
Gottfried's work at Sheephead Bay, the witness testified, was recognized to the extent that Gottfried won promotion and was transferred to Port Mcherry, training station in Baltimore where construction work was lagging, to expedite the construction of buildings to keep up with the training program.

Gottfried became a "full-time construction expeditor and coordinator," said Wagner, and his activities in Baltimore resulted in "very substantial savings to the government."

In one instance, the witness said, Gottfried saved the government about 70 percent of the estimated cost of building a rifle range.

Service was placed on the inactive status list at his own request late in 1943. Because of continental construction program was about completed, and because of his age, and the fact that he obtained all our supplies in the South Pacific from the navy," his request was granted, the witness said.

Gottfried's application for inactive status stated that the affairs of the Gottfried Baking Corp., described as the largest independent bakery concern in New York city, were in bad shape because the draft was calling many of its employees and several executives were ill, the witness said.

Gottfried is the largest individual owner of the company.

Southard and Richter of Wiltwyck Hurt, Also V. Osborn, a Volunteer

Although a fire at the Maple Block factory, 6 Deyo street, about midnight Saturday caused only slight damage to the building, two paid firemen and a volunteer suffered injuries of varying degrees.

The most seriously injured of the trio in the blaze that lasted nearly four hours was Fireman Glen Southard of Wiltwyck Hose, who suffered a cut on his right hand that required two stitches to close and was knocked to the floor by a falling door. He suffered a bruised right hip and left shoulder when struck by the door.

Fireman Harry H. Richter also of Wiltwyck fell over a hose line and reported injury to his ribs, while Victor Osborn, a volunteer member of A. H. Wicks Company slipped and fell, injuring his left arm.

All three men were administered treatment at the Kingston Hospital and then released.

Cause Unknown
The cause of the fire is not known although it is thought by firemen that the blaze started from a spark which had blown back from the boiler and ignited sawdust on the floor in the boiler room.

The fire was discovered by Peter Norton, a night watchman, who notified the fire department and Engines 3 and 4 and Truck No. 2 responded, followed by Engine No. 1 and Wiltwyck and Wicks Hose.

Fire Chief Joseph Murphy and Deputy Chief Harold Sanford were on the scene directing operations.

Flames Spread
The flames spread from the ignited sawdust through steam pipe recesses in the wall to the boiler room.

Senate Committee Votes Lillenthal

Favors Him for Atomic Energy Commission by 8-1 Poll

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The Senate Atomic Energy Committee today voted 8 to 1 for confirmation of David E. Lillenthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The committee also approved the nominations of W. W. W. Mack, L. L. Strauss, Dr. Robert Bacher and Sumner T. Pike as members of the commission, and Carroll Wilson as general manager.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) cast the only vote against Lillenthal. His Ohio colleague, Senator Taft, chairman of the Republican policy committee, already had declared against the former chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) and Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who were attending a White House conference, voted by proxy.

All the names now go to the Senate floor for consideration. Connally was recorded only on the Lillenthal nomination. Chair-

F.B.I. Prisoner

Wilfred Joseph Goneau, 25, of Poplar, Wis., who was sought by the F.B.I. and Wisconsin authorities following his escape from the Sullivan county jail, Monticello last September, was scheduled to arrive in Monticello today following arraignment in Brooklyn before a U. S. commissioner. He was arrested by the F.B.I. in a Brooklyn bowling alley where he had been working as a pin boy. At the time of his escape he was being held on charges arising out of a $3,500 Ferndale summer camp burglary.

Alecca's Condition Reported as Fair, Turk Still in Jail

Victim of Alleged Beating Has Comfortable Night; No Bail Asked by Man Held

Anthony Alecca, court house janitor who was severely injured in a brawl outside of Perry's Grill early Saturday morning, is in fair condition at the Kingston Hospital today.

Meanwhile Michael Turk, alias "Spike" Turk, of 214 Church street, Poughkeepsie, formerly of Kingston, is held in the county jail awaiting action of the grand jury on a second degree assault charge for allegedly beating up Alecca.

According to statements taken by the police, Alecca said he entered Perry's Grill at Delaware avenue and North street about 10 o'clock Friday night and there were a number of persons in the grill including a man he knew as Michael Turk.

An argument ensued and the men were ordered out of the grill. A fist fight started in front of the grill and Alecca was knocked unconscious he did not remember how he got to his home at 85 Gill street, where he was found unconscious by police, and did not recall being taken to the Kingston Hospital.

In his statement, Alecca accused Turk of kicking him in the head when he was down, but Turk's statement contradicts that allegation.

County Judge John M. Cashin said no request had been made for bail for Turk, who is now on probation for a petit larceny conviction last fall for allegedly sticking up a dice game.

Kingston Hospital authorities said Alecca, who is the father of nine children, spent a comfortable night and is in good condition.

No Fracture
Dr. Sidney C. Pauker, Alecca's attending physician, said that results of X-rays taken Saturday were negative and disclosed no fracture of the skull as was feared at first. Dr. Pauker said Alecca's general condition is good except for a badly lacerated ear which has developed a slight hemorrhage and which figures to prolong Alecca's hospitalization.

Meanwhile at police headquarters it was announced that Turk had been apprehended by Officers Ken Hyatt and Leonard Ellsworth and not Detectives Wes Cramer and Clarence Brophy as reported Saturday.

Officers Hyatt and Ellsworth began a check of all hotels when the alarm was spread that Turk was missing following the encounter and finally located Turk at the Governor Clinton Hotel and placed him under arrest.

Bids for GOP Convention

Expected to Ask Loan of $250,000,000 for Tottering Nation, Supplies for Army Action Needed

U. S. Must Show Speed in Acting for Own, World Peace Interest

Washington, March 10 (AP)—President Truman will address Congress Wednesday, on the "whole question" of the Greek crisis and the critical situation in the Mediterranean area.

From others, it was learned that Mr. Truman will ask for a $250,000,000 direct loan to Greece.

These persons—among those who talked with Mr. Truman—said they expected the president in his address to:

1. Explain frankly to Congress and the people the necessity of bolstering the tottering government of King George.

2. Discuss the possibility that some military supplies may have to be transferred from surplus stocks in Germany to outfit the Greek army in its clashes with Communist-trained guerrillas.

Country May Topple
Mr. Truman was represented as having told the 13 members of the House and Senate who met with him that unless the United States acts quickly the Greek government may fall and Communist elements seize control of that strategic Mediterranean country.

The president was said to have emphasized that in any action this country takes it will be serving primarily the objective of world peace and American self-interest.

Vandenberg, head of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told reporters that Mr. Truman would speak in behalf of the proposed Greek loan.

Will Be Broadcast
Charles G. Ross, the president's press secretary, said the address—now as yet unfinished—will require about 20 minutes to deliver. It likely will be broadcast over all radio networks.

Ross would not elaborate on this brief announcement.

"The session is going before a joint session at 1 p. m. Wednesday. He will address the joint session on the situation in the Near East."

Ross said the session between Mr. Truman and the congressional leaders, the objectives was devoted to an outline of the Near East situation and to an "interchange of views."

In talking to reporters, Vandenberg said:

"The president has discussed with us great care the situation involved in connection with the proposed Greek loan."

"He will come to Congress at noon Wednesday to a joint session of the House and Senate to discuss the whole situation."

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio), one of the White House conferees, said he is not prepared to say what stand he will take on aid to Greece. However, he noted that about $50,000,000 of a pending $350,000,000 foreign relief authorization has been earmarked to provide food for Greece. He said only $10,000,000 of a previous $25,000,000 loan had been drawn by the latter country.

A Sudden Change
"The administration has not been willing to let the additional $15,000,000 go because of some

Stamp Good April 11 in Ration Book Will Entitle Holders to 10 Pounds

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The office of temporary controls announced today that spare stamp No. 11 on OPA family ration books will become good April 1 for 10 pounds of sugar.

Validation of the 10-pound stamp will mark OPA's change-over from the 5-pound ration procedure for household users. The current stamp, No. 53 good for five pounds, will expire March 31.

Stamp No. 11 will be good through September 30 but OPA said a second stamp good for 10 pounds will be validated July 1 providing sugar imports meet expectations.

OPA officials said it is possible that still another 10 pounds, bringing the year's total for householders to 35, may be made available September 30.

OPA emphasized that new stamps being validated include sugar for both regular home and canning use. No separate stamps will be issued for canning.

Dewey Will Propose One No Larger Than Bank Check

Albany, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—A million New York taxpayers would be permitted to file the state income tax returns next year on a form no bigger than a bank check under a plan to be recommended to the Legislature tonight by Governor Dewey.

The proposal, the most sweeping simplification of income tax returns in the 28-year-history of the law, would amend the income tax law to give taxpayers the option of taking a flat reduction of 10 per cent of gross income, up to a maximum of $300 reduction, or of itemizing deductions as at present.

The flat reduction would make possible "the use of a proposed income tax card return the size of an ordinary bank check for all taxpayers who have income from only salaries or wages, commissions, dividends and interest." Paul F. Lockwood, Dewey's secretary, said last night in announcing the proposal.

Week-End Fires Take 10 Lives Throughout U. S.

(By The Associated Press)
Fires and explosions, one of them a spectacular natural gas explosion in Oklahoma, caused the deaths of 10 persons over the week-end.

One man was killed and four others injured in the explosion last night at a gas compressor station near Blackwell, Okla. For more than an hour, a 100-foot column of flame roared up from the station.

Three men trapped by flames in an Indianapolis rooming house were among the 10 victims. Two children were burned fatally when their home at Des Moines, Iowa, went up in flames.

A Chicago apartment fire cost three lives. A 79-year-old man in Norwich, N. Y., died after his clothing caught fire.

In York, Pa., about 175 guests escaped injury in a fire at the seven-story Hotel Colonial which caused damage tentatively estimated at $350,000. Police said the guests evacuated the structure "like a rehearsed drill."

Another destructive fire in which no one was injured swept a city block of Danville, Va. In Philadelphia, a fire raged for two hours last night across the street from Independence Hall, for a time threatening the historical structure. Twenty-four firemen were overcome by smoke, none seriously. Another Philadelphia fire, confined to the ninth floor of the Sheraton Hotel, resulted in no casualties.

In New York city, seven firemen were burned by sticky, burning chemicals that exploded in the basement of a factory building where they were "wetting down" after bringing a blaze under control.

Dewey Concentrates on Pushing Through Controversial Legislation

DEWEY CONCENTRATES
Albany, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—Confronted with more outside protests than at any time since he took office, Governor Dewey concentrated today on pushing through the legislature a host of controversial measures before final adjournment in a week or 10 days.

The Governor was reported determined to obtain passage, without fundamental changes, of bills to outlaw public employee strikes, establish permanent minimum pay schedules for teachers, permit localities to raise $111,000,000 a year by special taxes, continue the rent control laws and levy additional taxes to pay off the $400,000,000 veterans' bonus debt.

In addition, Dewey was understood to be contemplating proposing some form of housing legislation.

Other proposals expected to provoke hot debate in the legislative adjournment drive include bills to assure rebates to employers contributing to the unemployment insurance fund and to provide benefits for dependents of the jobless.

The Wilson-Pakula bill to curb tie-ups between minor and major parties also is expected to stir up a major wrangle.

Teacher Pay Amendments
Amendments to the teacher pay plan are scheduled to be introduced tonight. Several of them will be of a technical nature, designed to prevent obvious inequities. But a qualified source predicted there would be no fundamental change in the program.

Teacher organizations seek to eliminate the merit increment system, a feature of the plan, and to have automatic increments begin next July 1, especially for experienced teachers in lower salary levels, instead of July 1, 1948.

Five hundred delegates from Local 555, New York city teachers union (C.I.O.) were on their way to Albany today to attack several phases of the salary bill.

Says Gottfried Had Ability and Got Scarce Items

C. G. Commander Testifies Sugar Trial Figure Saved $500,000 for the U. S.

New York, March 10 (AP)—Harold Gottfried, president of the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corp., of Ellenville, N. Y., saved the government about $500,000 in the construction of the Coast Guard and Merchant Marine Training Stations at Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn, Lt. Cmdr. Edward P. Wagner testified in federal court today.

Wagner had charge of all continental and overseas construction for the Coast Guard during the war.

Gottfried and his corporation are on trial before Federal Judge Henry E. Wilkins and jury, charged with falsification of O.P.A. forms concerning the corporation's sugar consumption for 1941.

Gottfried, Joseph M. Forman, former corporation counsel of Kingston, N. Y., and William T. Stanton, also of Kingston, a former Albany, N. Y., O.P.A. investigator, also are on trial charged with conspiring to defraud the government out of Stanton's impartial services in connection with Stanton's investigation of the Ellenville case.

Cmdr. Wagner said Gottfried entered the coast guard as a Junior Lieutenant in the commissary department, but that his ability "to get things accomplished in a hurry" and in "obtaining hard-to-get items" resulted in this transfer to the construction branch of the service.

Sent to Expedite Program
Gottfried's work at Sheepshead Bay, the witness testified, was recognized to the extent that Gottfried won promotion and was transferred to Fort McHenry, training station in Baltimore where construction work was lagging, to "expedite the construction of buildings to keep up with the training program."

Gottfried became a "full-time construction expediter and coordinator," said Wagner, and his activities in Baltimore resulted in "very substantial savings to the government."

In one instance, the witness said, Gottfried saved the government about 70 per cent of the estimated cost of building a rifle range.

Gottfried was placed on the inactive service list at his own request late in 1943. Because "our continental construction program was about completed, and because of his age, and the fact that we obtained all our supplies in the South Pacific from the navy, his request was granted, the witness said.

Gottfried's application for inactive status stated that in the affairs of the Gottfried Baking Corp., described as the largest independent bakery concern in New York city, were in bad shape because the draft was calling many of its employees and several executives were ill, the witness said. Gottfried is the largest individual.

Senate Committee Votes Lilienthal
Favors Him for Atomic Energy Commission by 8-1 Poll

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The Senate Atomic Energy Committee today voted 8 to 1 for confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The committee also approved the nominations of W. W. Waymack, L. L. Strauss, Dr. Robert Serber and Sumner T. Pike as members of the commission, and Carroll Wilson as general manager.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) cast the only vote against Lilienthal. His Ohio colleague, Senator Taft, chairman of the Republican policy committee, already had declared against the former chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), who was attending a White House conference, voted by proxy.

All the names now go to the Senate floor for consideration. Connally was recorded only on the Lilienthal nomination chairmanship.

No Fracture
Dr. Sidney C. Pauker, Alecca's attending physician, said that results of X-rays taken Saturday were negative and disclosed no fracture of the skull as was feared at first. Dr. Pauker said Alecca's general condition is good except for a badly lacerated ear which has developed a slight hemorrhage and which figures to prolong Alecca's hospitalization.

Meanwhile at police headquarters it was announced that Turk had been apprehended by Officers Ken Hyatt and Leonard Ellsworth and not Detectives Wes Cramer and Clarence Brophy as reported Saturday.

Officers Hyatt and Ellsworth began a check of all hotels when the alarm was spread that Turk was missing following the encounter and finally located Turk at the Governor Clinton Hotel and placed him under arrest.

Bids for GOP Convention
Chicago, March 10 (AP)—A special subcommittee of the Republican national committee met today to discuss bids for the party's 1948 convention. The three chief contenders for the convention were Chicago, Atlantic City and Philadelphia, although Detroit was mentioned as a possible bidder as well.

F.B.I. Prisoner

Wilfred Joseph Goneau, 25, of Poplar, Wis., who was sought by the F.B.I. and Wisconsin authorities following his escape from the Sullivan county jail, Monticello last September, was scheduled to arrive in Monticello today following arraignment in Brooklyn before a U. S. commissioner. He was arrested by the F.B.I. in a Brooklyn bowling alley where he had been working as a pin boy. At the time of his escape he was being held on charges arising out of a $3,500 Ferndale summer camp burglary.

Cause Unknown
The cause of the fire is not known although it is thought by firemen that the blaze started from a spark which had blown back from the boiler and ignited sawdust on the floor in the boiler room.

The fire was discovered by Peter Norton, a night watchman, and located in the boiler room. Norton notified the fire department and Engines 3 and 4 and Truck No. 2 responded, followed by Engine No. 1 and Wiltwyck and Wicks Hose. Fire Chief Joseph Murphy and Deputy Chief Harold Sanford were on the scene directing operations.

Flames Spread
The flames spread from the ignited sawdust through steam pipe recesses in the wall to the boiler room.

Alecca's Condition Reported as Fair, Turk Still in Jail

Victim of Alleged Beating Has Comfortable Night; No Bail Asked by Man Held

Anthony Alecca, court house janitor who was severely injured in a brawl outside of Perry's Grill early Saturday morning, is in fair condition at the Kingston Hospital today.

Meanwhile Michael Turk, alias "Spike" Turk, of 214 Church street, Poughkeepsie, formerly of Kingston, is held in the county jail awaiting action of the grand jury on a second degree assault charge for allegedly beating up Alecca.

According to statements taken by the police, Alecca said he entered Perry's Grill at Delaware avenue and North street about 10 o'clock Friday night and there were a number of persons in the grill including a man he knew as Michael Turk.

An argument ensued and the men were ordered out of the grill. A fist fight started in front of the grill and Alecca was knocked unconscious he said. He told police he did not remember how he got to his home at 65 Gill street, where he was found unconscious by police, and did not recall being taken to the Kingston Hospital.

In his statement, Alecca accused Turk of kicking him in the head while he was down, but Turk's statement contradicts that allegation.

County Judge John M. Cashin said no request had been made for bail for Turk, who is now on probation for a petit larceny conviction last fall for allegedly sticking up a dice game.

Kingston Hospital authorities said Alecca, who is the father of nine children, spent a comfortable night and is in good condition.

No Fracture
Dr. Sidney C. Pauker, Alecca's attending physician, said that results of X-rays taken Saturday were negative and disclosed no fracture of the skull as was feared at first. Dr. Pauker said Alecca's general condition is good except for a badly lacerated ear which has developed a slight hemorrhage and which figures to prolong Alecca's hospitalization.

Expected to Ask Loan of $250,000,000 for Topping Nation, Supplies for Army

Action Needed

U. S. Must Show Speed in Acting for Own, World Peace Interest

Washington, March 10 (AP)—President Truman will address Congress Wednesday, on the "whole question" of the Greek crisis and the critical situation in the Mediterranean area.

From others, it was learned that Mr. Truman will ask for a $250,000,000 direct loan to Greece.

These persons—among those who talked with Mr. Truman—said they expected the president in his address to:

1. Explain frankly to Congress and the people the necessity of bolstering the tottering government of King George.

2. Discuss the possibility that some military supplies may have to be transferred from surplus stocks in Germany to outfit the Greek army in its clashes with Communist-trained guerrillas.

Country May Topple
Mr. Truman was represented as having told the 13 members of the House and Senate who met with him that unless the United States acts quickly the Greek government may fall and Communist elements seize control of that strategic Mediterranean country.

The president was said to have emphasized that in any action this country takes it will be serving primarily the objective of world peace and American self-interest.

Vandenberg, head of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told reporters that Mr. Truman would speak in behalf of the proposed Greek loan.

Will Be Broadcast
Charles G. Ross, the president's press secretary, said the address—not as yet finished—will require about 20 minutes to deliver. It likely will be broadcast over all radio networks.

Ross would not elaborate on this brief announcement.

"The president is going before a joint session at 1 p. m. Wednesday. He will address the joint session on the situation in the Near East."

Ross said the session between Mr. Truman and the congressional leaders of both parties was devoted to an outline of the Near East situation and to an "interchange of views."

In talking to reporters, Vandenberg said:

"The president has discussed with us in great candor the situation involved in connection with the proposed Greek loan."

"He will come to Congress at noon Wednesday to a joint session of the House and Senate to discuss the whole situation."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), one of the White House conferees, said he is not prepared to say what stand he will take on aid to Greece. However, he noted that about $50,000,000 of a pending $350,000,000 foreign relief authorization has been earmarked to provide food for Greece. He said only $10,000,000 of a previous $25,000,000 loan had been drawn by the latter country.

A Sudden Change
"The administration has not been willing to let the additional $15,000,000 go because of some

Stamp Good April 1

No. 11 in Ration Book Will Entitle Holders to 10 Pounds

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The office of temporary controls announced today that spare stamp No. 11 on OPA family ration books will become good April 1 for 10 pounds of sugar.

Validation of the 10-pound stamp will mark OPA's change over from the 5-pound ration procedure for household users. The current stamp, No. 53 good for five pounds, will expire March 31.

Stamp No. 11 will be good through September 30 but OPA said a second stamp good for 10 pounds will be validated July 1 providing sugar imports meet expectations.

OPA officials said it is possible that still another 10 pounds, bringing the year's total for householders to 35, may be made available September 30.

OPA emphasized that new stamps being validated include sugar for both regular home and canning use. No separate stamps will be issued for canning.

I WISH . . .
I wish that I could learn to smile
When worries come to mar the day,
I wish that I could laugh a while
Until the storm clouds roll away.

So many friends can pass a joke
And make believe their hearts are glad
When ill appears as rings of smoke
Although I know their hearts are sad.
I wish that I could do the same
And sing a song when worries mount . . .
I'd gladly learn to play the game
For that's the style that seems to count.

Instead of this, I reminisce
And dream of days when joy was king:
A camp . . . a lake . . . midsummer bliss
I use to ease misfortune's sting.
A dozen moods will come and go
When passing cares are pressing in,
But this just feeds the fire, I know . . .
I wish my heart would learn to grin.

Buckman, Singer Cars Are in Collision

Cars operated by Alvin Buckman, 90 Farrelly street, this city, and Louis K. Singer, 64 Talmadge street, Poughkeepsie, collided on the East Chester street by-pass near the By-Pass Service Station about 1:30 p. m. Saturday, with fender damages to both cars.

Buckman, driving a 1932 Chevrolet coach, was going south on the by-pass when his car collided with Singer's 1942 Buick sedan which was headed north. The right rear fender on the Buckman car and right front fender of the Singer vehicle were damaged.

There were no arrests and no personal injuries. Officers James Burns and Earl Schoonmaker investigated the accident.

New Jersey Couple Hurt As Auto Crashes Into Tree

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sundry of East Rutherford, N. J., suffered minor injuries when their car, operated by Mrs. Sundry, left the highway and crashed into a tree near 300 East Chester street about 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

The couple were taken to the Kingston Hospital by ambulance where Mrs. Sundry was treated for a bruised right elbow and bruised knees, while Mr. Sundry was treated for an injured right knee and left elbow. Both were released after treatment.

The Sundry vehicle, a 1946 Pontiac sedan, was badly damaged in the front end. The New Jersey couple was travelling north on the by-pass when Mrs. Sundry suddenly lost control, the police said. The accident was investigated by Officers George Bowers and Edward Leonard.

Employers Must Bargain With Foremen's Unions

Supreme Court Ruling Is Made on Appeal of Packard From N.L.R. Decision

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that employers must bargain with foremen's unions.

The ruling was made on an appeal by the Packard Motor Company of Detroit from a National Labor Relations Board decision. The company contended foremen were not employees within the meaning of the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

Justice Jackson delivered the court's 6-to-3 decision. Justice Douglas wrote a dissent in which Chief Justice Vinson and Justice Burton concurred.

For the majority, Jackson said: "The context of the (Labor Relations) Act, we think, leaves no room for a construction of the section 'involved in this case' to deny the organizational privilege to employees because they act in the interest of an employer."

"Every employee from the very fact of employment in the master's business, is required to act in his interest."

The question of whether foremen have the same status as other employees under the Fair Labor Standards Act is one that has long been an issue in industry.

Among the new labor laws currently being discussed in Congress are proposals to exempt foremen from the law.

The NLRB Act guarantees workers the right to organize and bargain collectively with their employers.

Today's ruling was the Supreme Court's first on the issue. The labor board has deferred decisions on other foremen's cases pending this decision.

The ruling was the court's interpretation of the intent of Congress on the question when it passed the Wagner Labor Relations Act in 1935.

Better Hearing

HARRY R. MOONEY
Authority on Deafness
Although one day may seem only slightly different from another, each day makes what we call history. And one such recent day made history in the lives of millions of men and women. It was a change that altered almost every notion about hearing aids. And to many of my hard of hearing friends who had made the change, it was thrilling to discover a new world where they could hear the way they wanted to without the bulk and weight always associated with hearing instruments. To many, this change "has brought me the kind of clear, perfected relaxed hearing that I never expected to experience again—it's the most wonderful thing I have ever known in my life."

The change was made possible by the discovery and use of BEAMED ELECTRONIC POWER in a hearing aid—and in the world's only hearing aid that can offer this great achievement—the new ACOUSTICON IMPERIAL. I believe, in all truth, that the ACOUSTICON IMPERIAL is so remarkable that I am holding a special FREE clinic to show and demonstrate this tiny, powerful instrument. At no cost or obligation to you, you can see and hear the astounding ACOUSTICON IMPERIAL. For your own, future hearing happiness, please make a careful note of the time and place. at: Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston, N. Y.

When you attend the clinic, you will see why so many grateful people already agree that the new ACOUSTICON IMPERIAL is unlike any other hearing aid ever seen or used. It changes every idea you have ever had about the size, power, performance and beauty of a hearing instrument. It is so tiny that it is almost as thin as a fountain pen, and only about half as long. Remember—this clinic is FREE—personal, private consultation with absolutely no cost or obligation to you. In your own vital interest, I would like to urge you to attend this clinic.

Senator Maybank (D-SC) said that while he probably will support the loan, he wants Mr. Truman to tell Congress what aid may be necessary for Turkey and other European countries if the United States embarks on a policy of supporting democratic governments.

"I am afraid a $250,000,000 loan is only a starter," Maybank said. "We all know if we go in there, much higher stakes are likely to be needed."

Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) called on the President to "lay on the table not only the Greek com-

How you can help YOUR ARMY DO ITS PART FOR PEACE

WITH the President's proposal for the discontinuance of Selective Service on March 31, America will rely on voluntary enlistments for the maintenance of the Regular Army at authorized strength.

In view of world conditions today, this is a step of the gravest importance to every American citizen. Never before in history has any nation raised and maintained a million-man army by the volunteer system alone. Our ideals, our belief in individual freedom, our safety and our duty to promote world peace—all are bound up in this decision.

This is your Army, and voluntary enlistment is your choice. It must not fail. With your help it will not fail. The Army must continue to provide adequate occupation forces overseas, to supply these forces, and to help in keeping America strong and secure.

Your help and understanding can do much to encourage a steady flow of 3-year voluntary enlistments, necessary to sound training and the efficient performance of the Army's task.

When you discuss this subject with your sons, brothers, husbands or friends who may be considering an Army career, bear in mind the advantages offered by a 3-year enlistment. Among them are the choice of branch of service and of overseas theater where openings exist, and the opportunity for training in valuable skills at Army schools.

It is a high tribute to the loyalty and spirit of the American soldier that two out of every three men in the present Army are veterans—men who have known the hardships of war and have chosen to continue their service.

A job in the new Regular Army is a good job—a job that compares favorably with the average in industry, and has more opportunities for promotion than most.

You can help by giving your respect and support to the man who enlists voluntarily—to do his part in carrying out your country's world-wide obligations to build a peace that will endure.

ing counties having various tax systems; the counties do not have adequate machinery for collection of such taxes; tax collections of this type should be a state rather than a local function; the taxes would "hit the poor people."

The State Conference of Mayors, which is supporting a local tax program for cities and incorporated villages, will confer Wednesday with state officials in an effort to work out a compromise.

FitzPatrick Hits Program
Paul E. Fitzpatrick, Democratic state chairman, jumped into the fray over the week-end with a statement that Dewey's local tax program was "no satisfactory solution" to the financial problems of municipalities.

He said Dewey would levy additional taxes on "the man and woman least able to pay" while sitting "king-like on a huge surplus which is estimated to reach $627,000,000 by the end of the month." FitzPatrick also attacked Dewey's proposals to liquidate the prospective bonus with special taxes. Nevertheless, competent legislative sources predicted the bonus taxes agreed upon by legislative fiscal chiefs—an additional one cent per pack on cigarettes and a 20 per cent increase in income tax payments over present payments—would be approved.

Prospects of final adjournment next Saturday night, as planned originally, appeared dimmer today. It was reported legislative leaders expected to work through Friday, recess over the week-end, and close the session Wednesday, March 19.

St. Joseph's Holy Name Communion

The vitality of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church was forcefully demonstrated on Sunday morning, when some 300 members received Holy Communion at the 8 o'clock Mass. Following the Mass, the society held its annual communion breakfast at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The principal speaker, the Rev. Charles Loughran, S.J., of St. Andrew's-on-Hudson, delivered a scholarly address on several aspects of education of special interest to the Catholic layman. Other speakers presented by Toastmaster Joseph J. Morgan, were the Right Rev. Stephen P. Connelly, pastor; the Rev. John D. Simmons, spiritual director; Dennis E. Fennelly, president of the society; Mayor William F. Edelmuth, and William F. Leehive, president of the Ulster county division.

Case Workers Return After 14-Month Strike

Racine, Wis., March 10 (AP)—The nation's second oldest major strike, the 14-month old walkout at the J. I. Case Company plant, was at an end today after the U.A.W.-C.I.O. Local 180 membership voted yesterday to accept what spokesmen termed "not a good contract."

The announced vote was 927 to 448. The 3,500 union members had been out since December 26, 1945, although workers in other Case plants at Rockford and Rock Island, Ill., and Burlington, Iowa, previously had returned to their jobs.

"This is not a good contract but it is the best we could obtain," Leonard Woodcock of Detroit, special representative of U.A.W. President Walter Reuther, told the membership.

He and Harvey Kitzman, president of the local, urged members to accept the contract. The strike had been costing U.A.W. International about $12,000 a week, the union announced.

Kitzman said the contract would yield an "across the board" pay increase averaging about 25 cents an hour. The union originally had asked 30 cents.

St. Peter's Holy Name Meeting Tonight

The regular monthly meeting of St. Peter's Holy Name Society will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Plans have been completed for the society's annual Communion breakfast to be held this year on April 13 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Following the business session motion pictures will be shown of famous bowlers in action. In this connection the members hope to see one of the city's ace bowlers, John Ferraro, give a personal demonstration on St. Peter's alleys. All of the members are urged to be present.

LaGuardia Has Fight Planned on General Rent Hike

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Fiorenzo H. La Guardia announced today the formation of an organization to oppose a general rent increase and asked the Senate Banking Committee to reopen hearings on proposed rent control legislation.

The former New York Mayor and UNRRA chief said the new group—the National Fair Rent Committee—was formed to combat what he called "the real estate lobby's drive to break rent ceilings."

He wired Senator Tobey, chairman of the committee, asking that hearings be reopened so that new suggestions presented since hearings were closed, "may be discussed by those who will be affected by rent increases."

"We shall take steps necessary to bring our viewpoint before the Congress and shall urge other groups who support our position to do the same," he added in a statement.

A bill to increase rents 10 percent and transfer supervision over controls from OPA to the courts was submitted by a Senate Banking subcommittee last week. However, the full committee returned the bill along with instructions to the subgroup to "continue its labors."

La Guardia said the new organization supports continuation of rent controls until June 30, 1948, without a general increase. It proposes, he said, that Congress vote adequate funds for the administration agency to make adjustments "in those cases where the financial facts justify such action."

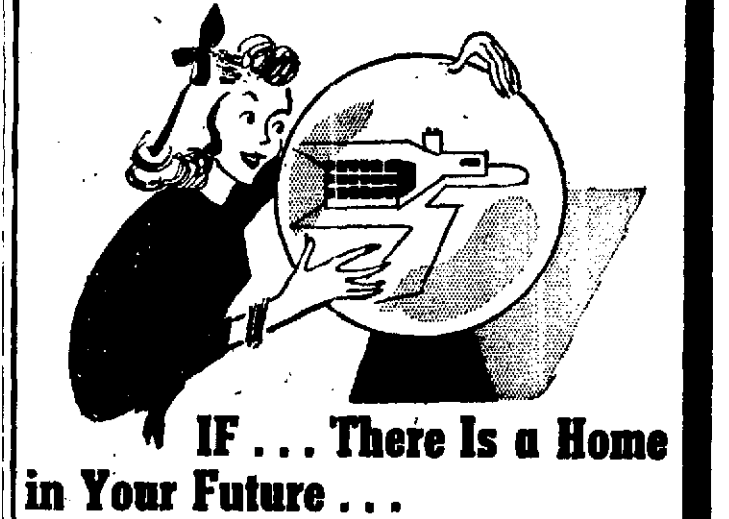

The committee will supply information on rent legislation to organizations with which its members are affiliated. A list of committee members released with La Guardia's announcement includes representatives of labor, consumer, religious, housing, veterans, social welfare and other groups.

Buy 'Em in Jersey
New York, March 10 (A)—Erie Calamia, president of the Retail Tobacco Dealers of America, Inc., estimates that New Yorkers are buying 50,000,000 cigarettes a month from New Jersey because of a 20-cents-per-carton tax differential between the two states. Calamia said last night a survey showed a "substantial growth" in the number of New Jersey firms conducting mail order sales of cigarettes.

GIRL SCOUT ANNIVERSARY

The Girl Scouts of America are celebrating their thirty-fifth anniversary and the local Scouts are participating in the celebration. In Ulster County the Girl Scout program has been used since 1916 when the first Girl Scout Troop was organized at St. John's Episcopal Church then on Wall street.

Today Ulster County has 1,202 registered Girl Scouts including its 260 adults.

The Ulster County Girl Scout Council during the observance of the anniversary sets forth its program for the year including the announcement of a financial drive, which will be held from April 14 through April 25. The goal is $12,000. The budget calls for $10,000 operating expenses and $2,000 for the reconditioning of Camp Wendy.

Camp Wendy at Walkkill will be opened in July and since it has not been rented or used for the past four years there is need for considerable reconditioning before the camp will be ready to meet Girl Scout standards. The Council hopes to accommodate 85 girls in each of the four encampments, which will take place during July and August.

The goal of the Council is to make it possible for every girl in Ulster County, who so desires, to participate in the Girl Scout program. The Scouts are given the opportunity to be of service to others, to learn new skills, which will give her satisfaction, to know and love the out-of-doors and to have fun.

Dedicated to patriotic citizenship, community service and good sportsmanship, the Girl Scout program deserves the generous support of all citizens.

MAKING THEM VOTE

We hear the frequent comment on the lamentable fact that so many American citizens do not exercise the privilege of voting, and it is emphasized and re-emphasized that voting in American elections is a sacred and patriotic privilege.

These appeals to our common sense and patriotism do not seem to have much effect. And it isn't because we have so many elections. At any rate, the neglect of our elections continues.

Some people, who always seem to think that the way to cure a national shortcoming is to pass a law, suggest that the qualified voter be compelled to vote or pay a fine for failure to do so. However, this doesn't always work. Brazil has such a law but in a recent election nearly two million voters stayed away from the polls. Where millions refuse to obey a law its enforcement becomes difficult if not impossible.

Getting voters to go to the polls is principally a matter of education. If they are not enough interested in good government to vote then there is little that can be done about it. The chances are that if they voted under compulsion it wouldn't do the country much good.

JUSTICE BEING DONE

Franz von Papen, Nazi diplomat and plotter, has been sentenced by a German court to eight years imprisonment. It always seemed illogical that the Nuremberg judges should convict so many who carried out Nazi plans, and acquit men like von Papen and Schacht who made these plans possible. Only an intense determination to stand on evidence led von Papen and Schacht off without conviction.

The affair recalls Lincoln's denunciation of those soft-hearted folk who were willing to have him order the shooting of a simple-minded soldier boy who deserted, but would not have him touch a hair of the head of the wily agitator who persuaded him to desert.

EMPIRE OF COAL

In 1938, Great Britain mined 226,993,200 tons of saleable coal. In 1940, when Great Britain was at war, it mined 224,288,800 tons. But in 1945, when the war was over, it only mined 174,657,000 tons of coal. The figures for 1946 show 184,000,000 tons, which is lower than British consumption and therefore leaves nothing for export.

In 1938, the output per miner at the face was 695 tons, but in 1945 that had fallen to 618.3 tons. So far as I can learn, the figures show that it takes 2.35 British miners to produce the same amount of coal as one American worker.

British socialism has throughout its history advocated and, through the trade unions, imposed limitations upon output. Even so astute a socialist as George Bernard Shaw, who based his economics upon the Fabian principles of Sidney and Beatrice Webb, says:

"Overproduction is the curse of Capitalism, and commercial competition its mainspring; yet commercial competition makes over-production inevitable. . . . Hence we get the cycles of over-production followed by unemployment and trade depression, the booms and slumps, the crises and recoveries, which are characteristic of the capitalist system and are dreaded economic nuisances."

In the United States we believe precisely the opposite. We believe that overproduction is an impossibility, that if there is a surplus of goods, the distributive process has failed.

It is because the British fear overproduction that they follow two paths:

One, is a Neo-Luddism; that is, a rejection of the best machinery to produce the largest quantity of goods with the least amount of human effort and compensating labor by high wages. In 1945, for instance, the average weekly earning per miner in Great Britain was $5-12-8, or approximately $22.65. In that same year the average weekly earning of the American bituminous coal miner was $52.25 and for anthracite coal workers $48.98.

And secondly, they have sought to work around this self-induced laziness has been augmented by such Utopian socialism as the Beveridge Plan, which guarantees benefits from the cradle to the grave for the idle as for the productive, dampening ardor for production by inducements for an avoidance of work. Little thought is given to the problem; no penalty exists for inadequate production.

When the present Socialist government came to power, the British worker apparently assumed that Nirvana was around the corner and that all he needed to do was wait for the government to hand out manna, mostly borrowed from the United States. Unfortunately the so-called American loan, which should have been used entirely for the modernization of British industry, had to be used too quickly for unessential purposes and the only ideas that came into the socialist heads of the British government consisted in tightening controls, particularly over foods. John Strachey's Food Ministry is a remarkable example of how to starve workers into idleness.

The results are altogether as obvious as they were inevitable. British production fell in 1946 and continued to fall in 1947. The Socialist government not only frightened capital by its program of nationalization but it frightened labor by its tightened controls over foodstuffs and other consumer's goods. When coal fell short of national needs, instead of swiftly finding new ways to get more coal, it rationed coal, closing down industries with the effect of reducing coal consumption, when actually what was needed was increased coal consumption and therefore increased coal production. Britain's failure to meet foreign demands established Soviet Russia and Poland in markets that had formerly been British.

The result is bankruptcy not only in imperial trade but in imperial politics. The Socialist government has proven its incompetence to meet a national crisis by other than such means as were used in the early days of socialization in Russia. As, for instance, when butter was exported from Russia to get dollars to buy machines; so today Britain is wasting its energies combating the use of such imports as tobacco and American movies to keep dollars from flowing out of the country. Under capitalism, they would push production to the limit of capacity and export widely to get dollars. The trouble is that the Socialists just do not know how.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M. D.

MENTAL, EMOTIONAL MAKE-UP

There are some words that often appear in health and newspaper columns which are not understood by some readers, and it is found that it is among these readers that these words are least known. It may be worth while then to explain these words that have much to do with our mental and emotional health.

Obsession is where the mind and personality of the individual is dominated or under the influence of thoughts which the individual cannot drive away although he may know that they are false or foolish.

Psychosomatic has recently come into common use; psycho means the mind and soma the body. It means the close relationship or influence of the mind and emotions over the body processes such as increasing the heart rate, slowing up digestion, causing diarrhea, or the effect of some body condition such as infected teeth or tonsils upon the mind or emotions.

Functional disease is the opposite of organic or true disease. In a functional disease the patient has symptoms similar to those in true or organic disease yet they are not caused by any change in the structure of the organ affected—stomach, heart, intestine—but by the mind or the emotions.

Phantasy is too much day dreaming. An ordinary amount of day dreaming does no harm. In fact is helpful, mentally and physically, but where the individual spends much of his time in day dreaming and this day dreaming acts on his mind and personality he is quite satisfied to live in his day dreaming instead of the actual or real life about him. He lives a life of "wish-fulfilling."

Paranoia is where the individual is suspicious of everybody and everything, thinks others are "down" on him, feels himself persecuted. Schizophrenia is the double personality like Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. At one time the individual lives and acts in a normal natural manner and at other times he acts in an entirely opposite manner. His behavior is not consistent.

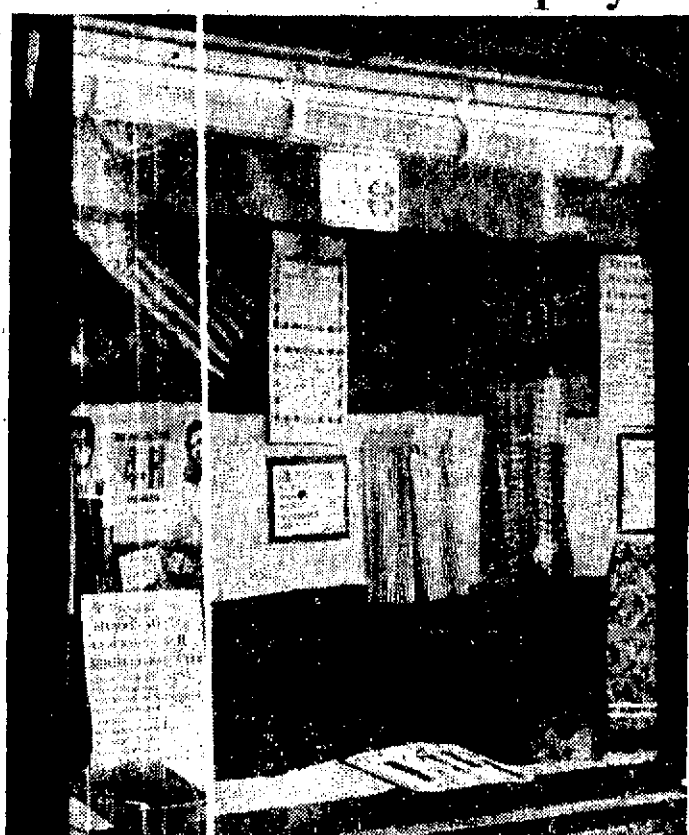

Neurosis—believing you have a physical ailment when none exists—is becoming increasingly common. See today Dr. Barton's informative booklet on this subject entitled "Neurosis." To obtain it just send ten cents and a three cent stamp to cover cost of handling and mailing to the Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York, N. AS PEGLER SEES IT

B. WESTBROOK PEGLER

A man named Robert R. Young, an ex-broker, we are told, is presented to the public these days as a serio-mischiefous genius of the railroad business, who challenges the monstrous Morgan interests for control of the New York Central.

He lives alternately in a 40-room house in Newport, R. I., and a tasteful confection called "The Towers" in Palm Beach, and is fighting to put America comfortably on wheels.

As prospective customers who are being importuned to accept this person as a phenomenon, and then, as an institution, we may keep the door on the chain-lock and analyze the sales-talk.

The first indeed, the sale—in the interest of most citizens in railroad safety, whatever the statistics of the industry may say about casualties per million passenger miles to allay our anxieties, the fact remains that the accident rate is so, rightening that the passenger now always consciously asks himself not whether he will get there or time but whether he will get there alive.

Dramatic wrecks are reported and pictured in the papers when the accident rate is so, rightening that the passenger now always consciously asks himself not whether he will get there or time but whether he will get there alive.

The "follow-up" story, with the Interstate Commerce Commission has finished its deliberate investigations and reports, revealing interest in this havoc and explaining what caused the smash ups, many of them have been caused by the attention of old men running the trains, by violation of speed limits on curves, by bad tracks and worn out equipment. There is strong controversy between the advocates of light cars and those who still stand by the old, heavy construction. The layman, thinking of his own neck, may be pardoned for preferring a light car and waving such eye-catching novelties as colorful prettification and pear-shaped external effects, night clubs and wireless telephones and movies en route.

The provisional dream of promise of transparent domes, similar to the tower of the freight cars, offers its own objections. If a car rolls over, as the automobile makers have shown, steel holds together, although even to come through a wreck without serious outward damage is a pleasure that most of us would gladly trade for the greater negative satisfaction of an uneventful journey.

Now Mr. Young is depicted as a fellow who comes from Texas and says "dambanker" the way the Texans say "dambanker." The other Texans who say "dambanker" these days are drunks in New York night clubs who resort to this expression to be picturesque and quaint. So many Texans are Yankee themselves, or the children of Yankees, that this regislish little cl is as archaic as "dambanker" and "dambanker" as little used. If Young does say "dambanker" that may be an indication of a special type of Texan who is not at all distinguished on his own home grounds but knows how to attract attention for his vanity when he goes east. In any case, it is no recommendation to the person who travels the railroads and is shopping for reasonable speed and the utmost safety. A broken all or a drowsy old geezer on the head end who should have been retired years ago, can still wave up a deluxe train even though the financier who has taken over the road by some cleverness, in a board room says "dambanker" all day long.

Mr. Young's propaganda says he is almost entirely self-employed in railroad operating men. Still no sale. After all, railroad operating men spend their lives running trains and, though not all of them may be as good as the best of them, still there is a specialized occupation, full of stories, knowledge and skill. And anyone who would put his trust in a broker, even a pranksman, a parate Texan who says "dambanker" in preference to a professional railroad man has only his self to blame if some night the firm's himself boxed in a steel cell upside down, with 24 hours to wait until the wreckers can cut him out with their torches. Operating men have lived years in motion actually on the railroads. Their eyes and ears can detect dangers that a broker couldn't well understand if they were pointed out and explained. They are experts.

Mr. Young is said to have forced the reactionary professional railroad men to accede to his demand for through cars on the transcontinental runs. That is only a technical victory, if any. To most passengers it is still an illusion. The through cars are few, one to a train usually, and on some lines they run only on alternate days. This means that it is only a nominal service and that even though applications are made weeks in advance on the through cars, few passengers get space. On the other hand, the problems of the traffic and operations men for whom Mr. Young has such contempt are almost insuperable, as examination of their side of the story will show. It is dramatic to say that a line can ride from coast to coast without getting off or changing cars, but it is neither literally true nor a fair comparison of problems.

Mr. Young is said to receive only $7,500 a year as chairman of the board of the C. and O., but that modestly suffers some damage in view of his way of life in the casinos at Newport and Palm Beach. A 40-room house would call for a minimum of ten servants indoors and probably at least 20 hands, all told. At an average of $30 a week, which would be little, that would come to about $30,000 for personal service at Newport alone, and possibly half that much again for service at the Palm Beach place unless he asks such guests as the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, who are on the fastidious side, to smack up their own sleeping bags and dunk their own dishes, as seems unlikely.

Anyway, the social affinity between a rough-and-ready west Texan who says "dambanker" whether impulsively or for show, and the duke and duchess is not at once apparent. Just what are we to gather from this association as to Mr. Young's ability to run railroads safely and fast? For a few dollars invested in fares and expense money he could get Carol of Rumania and the authentic Hapsburg, too, but would that keep a rocket or a flyer on the tracks?

There are other gaps in Mr. Young's qualifications as presented thus far in publicity that is strongly sympathetic but it seems to me naive, Mr. Young, to spend long vacations and week-ends in solitude, away from it all, and have "discovered" that he can think a jump ahead of those businessmen who befog themselves with gregariousness.

That may be his story, but entertaining the royal excitement my idea of quiet solitude. The men I know who run railroads, and I do know many of them well, befo themselves neither with gregariousness nor anything else, but are on the job always and sleep with an ear attuned to a bedside telephone for the terrible and increasing alarms from out in the country where men, equipment and tracks, weakened to delapidation by a magnificent performance in the war, are spinning into dreadful tangles. I don't look to a broker to cure that from his solitude at Newport or Palm Beach by saying "dambanker."

If there is anything more convincing in the spiel I should be pleased to listen, but my sales resistance is still strong against the qualifications advanced in Mr. Young's behalf to date.

I don't want my railroad men picturesque or necessarily ludicrous, but prefer them plain, sensible, unaffected and efficient from long service in railroading, not stock trading.

JEWIS DIVIDED ON PALESTINE

Few Americans appear to understand that the Jewish community is bitterly divided on the Palestine issue. The confusion is due largely to the fact that the Zionist have captured control of almost all the Jewish press and have set up an organization so powerful that in this hemisphere alone it plans this year to raise $215,000,000—nearly four times the goal of the Red Cross.

There have been many charges, often from opposition Jewish groups and individuals, that these funds are raised under a false pretense of saving Europe's refugee Jews, for the real purpose of financing "world Zionist power politics." Because of the immense influence wielded in Zionist groups by the Morning Freiheit Association and its well known Communist representatives, the Palestine funds likewise are suspected of being used in great sums to promote the World Revolution.

There are at least three groups in America, all small unfortunately but composed of soundly loyal American Jews, who resent the whole Zionist movement as the wrong way to solve the problem of Europe's displaced Jews and as a sure way to fan anti-Semitism.

Dr. I. M. Rabinowitch, prominent Canadian Orthodox rabbi, goes so far as to say, "I am convinced: A Jewish state in Palestine means war."

Speaking before the Canadian club of Montreal, Canada, his address carried in full in the December issue of "Destiny", Rabbi Rabinowitch urged fellow Canadians not to condemn the whole Jewish community for the disloyalty of Political Zionists. He traced the "divided citizenship" concept of Zionism to "Moses Hess, who laid down the guiding principle of the movement, that, if the advantages of citizenship conflict with the aims of political nationalism, it was the citizenship which had to be sacrificed."

Dr. Rabinowitch divided Zionists into three classes: "Moderates, extremists and, among the extremists, the terrorists." "The moderate are those who, though their ultimate aim is a Jewish state, have as their dominant objective at present the rescue and the rehabilitation of the displaced Jews of Europe. For this they are to be highly recommended."

"The extremists—those who represent the majority—differ from the moderates in that their only objective is a Jewish state. To that end they have subordinated everything. They have distorted the facts and suppressed truth and, as they have in the past, they are now using the suffering remnant of their people as a tool for their own political ends."

"No greater betrayal of the tortured Jews of Europe is it possible to imagine than the refusal by the Political Zionists of Australia to accept the generous offer of the Australian government to open its doors. No greater cruelty is it possible to imagine than the arrested Hell Ships in Haifa harbor. Knowing perfectly well that these pitiable people could not land in Palestine, they were nevertheless packed in overcrowded, filthy, floating boxes as propaganda pawns of Zionist Power Politics."

The Rabbi charged that much of the vast fund of the United Jewish Appeals is "syphoned off to implement in various ways the programme and propaganda of Political Zionists."

The American Council for Judaism and certain American Orthodox Jews likewise denounce the Zionist movement.

The Council, in its January issue of its "Information Bulletin," commended Rabbi Stephen S. Wise for resigning from Zionist organizations on the grounds that "there is another discipline to which I am bound—that of an American citizen."

Dr. David Goldstein, noted Catholic convert, Jewish rabbi, Elmer Berger of the Council, in attacking Zionists for "the use of the agonies of war to further a Zionist national ideology."

Soon after the war the Communists began using Palestine as the principal issue by which they would divide the fast two remaining sizeable anti-Communist powers and turn them one against the other, leaving Stalin a free hand in the Middle East, the Mediterranean, the Far East. In a year the Reds have made notable progress in this regard.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MARCH 10, 1947

GIRL SCOUT ANNIVERSARY

The Girl Scouts of America are celebrating their thirty-fifth anniversary and the local Scouts are participating in the celebration. In Ulster County the Girl Scout program has been used since 1916 when the first Girl Scout Troop was organized at St. John's Episcopal Church then on Wall street.

Today Ulster County has 1,202 registered Girl Scouts including its 260 adults.

The Ulster County Girl Scout Council during the observance of the anniversary sets forth its program for the year including the announcement of a financial drive, which will be held from April 14 through April 25. The goal is $12,000. The budget calls for $10,000 operating expenses and $2,000 for the reconditioning of Camp Wendy.

Camp Wendy at Wallkill will be opened in July and since it has not been rented or used for the past four years there is need for considerable reconditioning before the camp will be ready to meet Girl Scout standards. The Council hopes to accommodate 85 girls in each of the four encampments, which will take place during July and August.

The goal of the Council is to make it possible for every girl in Ulster County, who so desires, to participate in the Girl Scout program. The Scouts are given the opportunity to be of service to others, to learn new skills, which will give her satisfaction, to know and love the out-of-doors and to have fun.

Dedicated to patriotic citizenship, community service and good sportsmanship, the Girl Scout program deserves the generous support of all citizens.

MAKING THEM VOTE

We hear the frequent comment on the lamentable fact that so many American citizens do not exercise the privilege of voting, and it is emphasized and re-emphasized that voting in American elections is a sacred and patriotic privilege.

These appeals to our common sense and patriotism do not seem to have much effect. And it isn't because we have so many elections. At any rate, the neglect of our elections continues.

Some people, who always seem to think that the way to cure a national shortcoming is to pass a law, suggest that the qualified voter be compelled to vote or pay a fine for failure to do so. However, this doesn't always work. Brazil has such a law but in a recent election nearly two million voters stayed away from the polls. Where millions refuse to obey a law its enforcement becomes difficult if not impossible.

Getting voters to go to the polls is principally a matter of education. If they are not enough interested in good government to vote then there is little that can be done about it. The chances are that if they voted under compulsion it wouldn't do the country much good.

JUSTICE BEING DONE

Franz von Papen, Nazi diplomat and plotter, has been sentenced by a German court to eight years imprisonment. It always seemed illogical that the Nuremberg judges should convict so many who carried out Nazi plans, and acquit men like von Papen and Schacht who made these plans possible. Only an intense determination to stand on evidence let von Papen and Schacht off without conviction.

The affair recalls Lincoln's denunciation of those soft-hearted folk who were willing to have him order the shooting of a simple-minded soldier boy who deserted, but would not have him touch a hair of the head of the wily agitator who persuaded him to desert.

EMPIRE OF COAL

In 1938, Great Britain mined 226,993,200 tons of saleable coal. In 1940, when Great Britain was at war, it mined 224,298,800 tons. But in 1945, when the war was over, it only mined 174,657,000 tons of coal. The figures for 1946 show 184,000,000 tons, which is lower than British consumption and therefore leaves nothing for export.

In 1938, the output per miner at the face was 695 tons, but in 1945 that had fallen to 618.3 tons. So far as I can learn, the figures show that it takes 2.35 British miners to produce the same amount of coal as one American worker.

British socialism has throughout its history advocated and, through the trade unions, imposed limitations upon output. Even so astute a socialist as George Bernard Shaw, who based his economics upon the Fabian principles of Sidney and Beatrice Webb, says:

"... Overproduction is the curse of Capitalism, and commercial competition its mainspring; yet commercial competition makes over-production inevitable. Hence we get the cycles of over-production followed by unemployment and trade depression, the booms and slumps, the crises and recoveries, which are characteristic of the capitalist system and are dreaded economic nuisances."

In the United States we believe precisely the opposite. We believe that overproduction is an impossibility, that if there is a surplus of goods, the distributive process has failed.

It is because the British fear overproduction that they follow two paths:

One, is a Neo-Luddism; that is, a rejection of the best machinery to produce the largest quantity of goods with the least amount of human effort and compensating labor by high wages. In 1945, for instance, the average weekly earnings per miner in Great Britain was £5-12-8, or approximately $22.65. In that same year the average weekly earnings of the American bituminous coal miner was $52.25 and for anthracite coal workers $48.98.

And secondly, the lowering of output per worker, lest there not be enough work to go around. This self-induced laziness has been augmented by such Utopian socialism as the Beveridge Plan, which guarantees benefits from the cradle to the grave for the idle as for the productive, dampening ardor for production by inducements for an avoidance of work. Little benefit rewards the proficient; no penalty exists for inadequate production.

When the present Socialist government came to power, the British worker apparently assumed that Nirvana was around the corner and that all he needed to do was wait for the government to hand out manna, mostly borrowed from the United States. Unfortunately the so-called American loan, which should have been used entirely for the modernization of British industry, had to be used too quickly for unessential purposes and the only ideas that came into the socialist heads of the British government consisted in tightening controls, particularly over foods. John Strachey's Food Ministry is a remarkable example of how to starve workers into idleness.

The results are altogether as obvious as they were inevitable. British production fell in 1946 and continued to fall in 1947. The Socialist government not only frightened capital by its program of nationalization but it frightened labor by its tightened controls over foodstuffs and other consumer's goods. When coal fell short of national needs, instead of swiftly finding new ways to get more coal, it rationed coal, closing down industries with the object of reducing coal consumption, when actually what was needed was increased coal consumption and therefore increased coal production. Britain's failure to meet foreign demands for coal, Russia and Poland in markets that had formerly been British.

The result is bankruptcy not only in imperial trade but in imperial politics. The Socialist government has proved its incompetence to meet a national crisis by other than such means as were used in the early days of sovietization in Russia. As, for instance, when butter was exported from Russia to get dollars to buy machines; so today Britain is wasting its energies combatting the use of such imports as tobacco and American movies to keep dollars from flowing out of the country. Under capitalism, they would push production to the limit of capacity and export widely to get dollars. The trouble is that the Socialists just do not know how.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M. D.

MENTAL, EMOTIONAL MAKE-UP

There are some words that often appear in health and newspaper columns which are not understood by some readers, and it is found that it is among these readers that these words are least known. It may be worth while then to explain these words that have much to do with our mental and emotional health.

Obsession is where the mind and personality of the individual is dominated or under the influence of thoughts which the individual cannot drive away although he may know that they are false or foolish.

Psychosomatic has recently come into common use; psycho means the mind and soma the body. It means the close relationship or influence of the mind and emotions over the body processes such as increasing the heart rate, slowing up digestion, causing diarrhoea; or the effect of some body condition such as infected teeth or tonsils upon the mind of emotions.

Functional disease is the opposite of organic or true disease. In a functional disease the patient has symptoms similar to those in true or organic disease yet they are not caused by any change in the structure of the organ affected—stomach, heart, intestine—but by the mind or the emotions. Phantasy is too much day dreaming. An ordinary amount of day dreaming does no harm, in fact is helpful, mentally and physically, but where the individual spends much of his time in day dreaming and this day dreaming acts on his mind and personality he is quite satisfied to live in his day dreaming instead of the actual real life about him. He lives a life of "wish-fulfilling."

Paranoid is where the individual is suspicious of everybody and everything; thinks others are "down" on him, feels himself persecuted. Schizophrenia is the double personality like Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. At one time the individual lives and acts in a normal natural manner and at other times he acts in an entirely opposite manner. His behavior is not consistent.

A man named Robert R. Young, an ex-broker, we are told, is presented to the public these days as a serio-mischievous genius of the railroad business, who challenges the monstrous Morgan interests for control of the New York Central.

He lives alternately in a 40-room house in Newport, R. I., and a tasteful confection called "The Towers" in Palm Beach, and is fighting to put America comfortably on wheels.

As prospective customers who are being importuned to accept this person as a phenomenon, and then, as an institution, we may keep the door on the chain-link and analyze the sales-talk.

The first—indeed, the sole—interest of most citizens in railroads is safety, whatever the statistics of the industry may say about casualties per million passenger miles to allay our anxieties, the fact remains that the accident rate is so frightening that the passenger nowadays consciously asks himself not whether he will get there on time but whether he will get there alive.

The layman, thinking of his own neck, may be pardoned for preferring the heavy cars and waving such eye-catching novelties as colorful precocious and pear-shaped external effects, night clubs and wireless telephones and movies en route.

The provisional dreamy promise of transparent domes, similar to the tower of the freight caboose, offers its own objections. If a car rolls over as the automobile makers have shown, steel holds together, although even to come through a wreck without serious outward damage is a pleasure that most of us would gladly trade for the greater negative satisfaction of an uneventful journey.

Now Mr. Young is depicted as a fellow who comes from Texas and says "dambanker," the way other Texans say "dam Yankee." The only other Texans who say "dambanker" these days are drunks in New York night clubs who resort to this expression to be pious and quaint. So many Texans are Yankees themselves, or the children of Yankees, that this rough little cliché is as archaic as "skiddoo" and "oh, you kid" and as little used. If Young does say "dambanker" that may be an effectation of a special type of Texan who is not at all distinguished on his own home grounds but knows how to attract attention for his vanity when he goes east. In any case, it is no recommendation to the person who travels the railroads and is shopping for reasonable speed and the utmost safety. A broken rail or a drowsy old geezer on the head end, who should have been retired years ago, can still smash up a deluxe train even though the financier who has taken over the road by some cleverness in a board room says "dambanker" all day long.

Mr. Young's propaganda says he is almost equally contemptuous of railroad operating men. Still no sale. After all, railroad operating men spend their lives running trains and, though not all of them may be as good as the best of them, still theirs is a specialized occupation, full of mysteries, knowledge and skill. And anyone who would put his trust in a broker, even a pranksman, expatriate Texan who says "dambanker," in preference to a professional railroad man has only himself to blame if some night he finds himself boxed in a steel cell upside down, with 24 hours to wait until the wreckers can cut him out with their torches. Operating men have lived years in motion actually on the railroads. Their eyes and ears can detect dangers that a broker couldn't well understand if they were pointed out and explained. They are experts.

Mr. Young is said to have forced the reactionary professional railroad men to accede to his demand for through cars on the transcontinental runs. That is only a technical victory, if any. To most passengers it is still an illusion. The through cars are few, one to a train usually, and on some lines they run only on alternate days. This means that it is only a nominal service and that even though applications are made weeks in advance on the through cars, few passengers get space. On the other hand, the problems of the traffic and operations men for whom Mr. Young has such contempt are almost insuperable, as examination of their side of the story will show. It is dramatic to say that a hog can ride from coast to coast without getting off or changing cars, but it is neither literally true nor a fair comparison of problems.

Mr. Young is said to receive only $7,500 a year as chairman of the board of the C. and O., but that modesty suffers some damage in view of his way of life in the castles at Newport and Palm Beach. A 40-room house would call for a minimum of ten servants indoors and probably at least 20 hands, all told. At an average of $30 a week, which would be little, that would come to about $30,000 for personal service at Newport alone, and possibly half that much again for service at the Palm Beach place unless he asks such guests as the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, who are on the fastidious side, to smack up their own sleeping bags and dunk their own dishes, as seems unlikely.

Anyway, the social affinity between a rough-and-ready west Texan who says "dambanker," whether impulsively or for show, and the duke and duchess is not at once apparent. Just what are we to gather from this association as to Mr. Young's ability to run railroad cars safely and fast? For a few dollars invested in fares and expense money he could get Carol of Rumania and the authentic Hapsburg, too, but would that look a rocket or a flyer on the tracks?

There are other gaps in Mr. Young's qualifications as presented thus far in publicity that is strongly sympathetic but, it seems to me, naive. Mr. Young spends long vacations and week-ends in solitude, away from it all, and has discovered that he can think a jump ahead of those businessmen who beg themselves with gregariousness.

That may be his story, but entertaining the royal exiles is not my idea of quiet solitude. The men I know who run railroads, and I do know many of them well, beg themselves neither with gregariousness nor anything else, but are on the job always and sleep with an ear attuned to a bedside telephone for the terrible and increasing alarms from out in the country where men, equipment and tracks, weakened to delapidation by a magnificent performance in the war, are spinning into dreadful tangles. I don't look to a broker to cure that from his solitude at Newport or Palm Beach by saying "dambanker."

JEWS DIVIDED ON PALESTINE

Few Americans appear to understand that the Jewish community is bitterly divided on the Palestine issue. The confusion is due largely to the fact that the Zionist have captured control of almost all the Jewish press and have set up an organization so powerful that in this hemisphere alone it plans this year to raise $215,000,000—nearly four times the goal of the Red Cross.

There have been many charges, often from opposition Jewish groups and individuals, that these funds are raised under a false pretense of saving Europe's refugee Jews, for the real purpose of financing "world Zionist power politics." Because of the immense influence wielded in Zionist groups by the Morning Freiheit Association and its well known Communist representatives, the Palestine funds likewise are suspected of being used in great sums to promote the World Revolution.

There are at least three groups in America, all small unfortunately but composed of soundly loyal American Jews, who resent the whole Zionist movement as the wrong way to solve the problem of Europe's displaced Jews and as a sure way to fan anti-Semitism.

Dr. I. M. Rabinowitch, prominent Canadian Orthodox rabbi, goes so far as to say, "I am convinced: A Jewish state in Palestine means war."

Speaking before the Canadian club of Montreal, Canada, his address carried in full in the December issue of "Destiny," Rabbi Rabinowitch urged fellow Canadian Jews not to condemn the whole Jewish community for the disloyalty of Political Zionists. He traced the "divided citizenship" concept of Zionism to "Moses Hess, who laid down the guiding principle of the movement, that, if the advantages of citizenship conflict with the aims of political nationalism, it was the citizenship which had to be sacrificed."

Dr. Rabinowitch divided Zionists into three classes: "Moderates, extremists and, among the extremists, the terrorists."

"The moderate are those who, though their ultimate aim is a Jewish state, have as their dominant objective at present the rescue and the rehabilitation of the displaced Jews of Europe. For this they are to be highly recommended."

"The extremists—and they represent the majority—differ from the moderates in that their only objective is a Jewish state. To that end they have subordinated everything. They have distorted the facts and suppressed truth and, as they have in the past, they are now using the suffering remnant of their people as a tool for their own political ends."

"No greater betrayal of the tortured Jews of Europe is it possible to imagine than the refusal by the Political Zionists of Australia to accept the generous offer of the Australian government to open its doors. No greater cruelty is it possible to imagine than the refusal of the L.A.S. will meet at the home of Bessie Zimmerman March 13 at 8 p. m. pitiable people could not land in Palestine, they were nevertheless packed into undescribably filthy, floating boxes as propaganda pawns of Zionist Power Politics."

The Rabbi charged that much of the vast fund of the United Jewish Appeals is "syphoned off" to implement in various ways the programme and propaganda of Political Zionists."

The American Council for Judaism and certain American Orthodox Jews likewise denounce the Zionist movement.

The Council, in its January issue of its "Information Bulletin," commended Rabbi Stephen S. Wise for resigning from Zionist organizations on the grounds that "there is another discipline to which I am bound—that of an American citizen."

Dr. David Goldstein, noted Catholic convert, joined Rabbi Elmer Berger of the Council, in attacking Zionists for "the use of the agonies of war to further a Zionist national ideology."

Soon after the war the Communists began using Palestine as the principal issue by which they would divide the last two remaining sizeable anti-Communist powers and turn them one against the other, leaving Stalin a free hand in the Middle East, the Mediterranean, the Far East. In a year the Reds have made notable progress in this direction.

Noted Choir Conductor with Choral Group

DR. H. AUGUSTINE SMITH

When the Choral Art Society of Boston University is presented at St. James Methodist Church Tuesday, March 18, 8 p. m., Dr. H. Augustine Smith, its founder will be the conductor. The concert is being sponsored by the Sanctuary Choir of the church as a civic project. No admission will be charged although a collection will be taken. The public is invited.

Dr. Smith is known to many local people as editor of the hymn book used in their church since several of the churches are using his "New Church Hymnal" or "Hymnal for American Youth." He is head of the Department of Sacred Music at Boston University's College of Music and celebrated his 30th anniversary at the institution in January. He holds numerous honors and is a pioneer in the field of church music. He is the founder of Home Dedication Day which is celebrated in 12 countries; he is one of the nation's outstanding conductor of massed choirs and he founded and organized the first multiple choir in the United States. He is now arranging the 10th choir festival to be held at the Boston Garden with more than 200 choirs participating. He was born in Naperville, Ill., received his bachelor of arts degree in 1896 and his masters in 1910 from North Central College. He also studied music at the American Conservatory and Oberlin College. Before going to Boston, he was a faculty member at University of Chicago and was director of music and choir soloist at the First Congregational Church in Chicago where he inaugurated multiple choirs.

Of this year's Choral Art Society, he says that its membership of 50 is the largest since its founding 12 years ago. Students from the University's several schools make up the personnel including pianist, violinist, baritone, tenor and soprano soloists, as well as a 20-voice male chorus.

Good Taste
Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

"NEVER" IS NOT ALWAYS POSSIBLE

The following describes an extremely troublesome detail of behavior as though it were the simplest and most voluntary of acts: "Does nose-blowing at the table, particularly at restaurant tables, upset no one but myself? Five of us children were brought up on a meager income and had little time for learning fine points of etiquette. However, we were taught certain standards of decency and among the most exacting of these was that noses could be wiped at the table, but never blown."

There is, of course, the rule for children to wash their hands and blow their noses before coming to the table. After one is grown, there is also the rule of never going out to lunch or dinner when you have a cold. But the only nose-control rule that can be kept unflinchingly is to carry several fresh handkerchiefs and use each but once. Also, if your nose is at all inclined to run, remember to avoid eating anything very hot, especially too hot coffee or soup.

September Always In Jaded

Dear Mrs. Post: When the bride-to-be's own mother is dead and she has a stepmother, doesn't the newspaper notice reading "the late Mrs. John Smith" and the late Mrs. Smith" ignore entirely the fact that there is a present Mrs. Smith? Doesn't it seem rather unkind to her stepmother?

Answer: The stepmother's name usually is included in the newspaper announcement this way: "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith are announcing the engagement of his daughter, Miss Mary Louise Smith, to Mr. Henry Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Jones of Coldsprings. Miss Smith's mother, who died several years ago, was the former Miss Alice Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson." The wedding invitation read:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith request the honor of your presence at the marriage of his daughter Mary Louise etc.

"Do you say, 'Excuse me' after coughing or sneezing in the middle of a sentence? Send for Mrs. Post's leaflet, 'Manners in Public,' obtainable for 5 cents in coin and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope, in care of the Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Helen Dahl Is Bride of Richard P. Boice
In Ceremony at Redeemer Lutheran Church

The marriage of Miss Helen Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dahl, 100 Hunter street, to Richard Pratt Boice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Boice, Lake Katrine, was performed Sunday at 4:30 p. m. in the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ernest Palen, assisted by the Rev. David C. Goise, pastor of the church.

Miss Harriet Boice sang "Because" and "O Promise Me." She was accompanied by Frederick Richens, organist, who also played the traditional wedding music. The church was decorated with carnations.

Mr. Dahl gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a blue gray suit with black accessories and corsage of gardenias. Miss Frances Dahl, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a tan-gray suit with black accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Myron Boice, Jr., cousin of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Ushers were Gordon Boice and Burnett Blakeslee, Jr.

A reception was held for the immediate families at Judie's. Mr. and Mrs. Boice left for a wedding trip in the South. Upon their return they will make their home in Lake Katrine.

March 10, 1947

Dear Homemakers:

Home is the essence of American life. It is there that character is formed, that personalities are created . . . and each individual reflects the mood of his home surroundings wherever he may be. If that home is thoughtfully arranged, pleasantly furnished, comfortably "livable" . . . if it is a happy setting for the daily life of your family . . . then that mood is confident and high-spirited.

Set the stage for happiness in your home as did Mr. and Mrs. Mark O. Cornwell who are shown below entering their new two-room G.I. home, which we are proud to possess of their new apartment at the Veterans Emergency housing project at Loughran Park. Mr. Cornwell is a veteran of three years in the army and gained the right to the apartment through the housing project point system.

Such manufacturers as Bigelow-Sanford, Simmons, Leonard, Glenwood, Lane, Philco, Randolph of Jamestown, Cushman and many other nationally known names are presented at KAPLAN'S.

So whether it be two rooms or twenty-two, we at KAPLAN'S are completely equipped to handle your home needs.

Yours very truly,

Slides on cow-judging were shown to members of various county 4-H Club units at the Kingston 4-H office recently. The Mt. Marion Club was among the others represented with Mr. King, their leader, in charge. Several talks were also given on cow-judging.

Honeymoon After 50 Years
Hollywood, March 10 (AP)—Fifty years ago George Deck asked Elizabeth Ruess to marry him in New York, but she demurred on the ground they were too young. After a half century of separation they were honeymooning today. He's 68, she 67. They had lost all contact with each other until last October, when she learned Beck's wife had died in 1944. She has been a widow for 26 years.

Reports Dog Bite
William Conerty, 276 Main street, reported to police headquarters about 11 a. m. Saturday that he had been bitten by a dog owned by a Mr. Pinkus, of 274 Main street. Conerty told police he required treatment at the Kingston Hospital.

Helen Dahl Is Bride of Richard P. Boice In Ceremony at Redeemer Lutheran Church

The marriage of Miss Helen Marie Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dahl, 100 Hunter street, to Richard Pratt Boice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Boice, Lake Katrine, was performed Sunday at 4:30 p. m. in the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ernest Palen, assisted by the Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor of the church.

Miss Harriet Boice sang "Because," and "O Promise Me." She was accompanied by Frederick Richens, organist, who also played the traditional wedding music. The church was decorated with carnations.

Anna Rothenberg, Kerhonkson to Wed

New York, March 8 (Special)—Miss Anna Marilyn Rothenberg of Kerhonkson, and Jack A. Zieselmann of 1625 52nd street, Brooklyn, obtained a marriage license here today at the Municipal Building. The couple said their marriage would take place March 23 in this city.

The prospective bride was born in Ellenville, the daughter of Sidney and Minnie R. Rothenberg. Mr. Zieselmann, the son of Samuel and Mollie K. Zieselmann, is a native of Bessarabia.

Former Ellenville Girl to Wed

New York, March 2 (Special)—Miss Florence B. Rudinsky, formerly a resident of Ellenville, now of 508 Schenck avenue, Brooklyn, and Adolph Ostfeld, of 305 Jerome street, Brooklyn, will be married March 23 in Brooklyn, according to an announcement made by the couple when they were granted their license here today at the City Clerk's office.

The prospective bride was born in Ellenville, the daughter of Isaac and Beekie L. Rudinsky. Mr. Ostfeld, the son of Louis and Helen Shier Ostfeld, is a native of Brooklyn.

Cozza-Crispino
Mary N. Crispino, 79 Abruy street, and Joseph R. Cozza, 33 Gill street, were married Friday at 8 p. m., by John O. Beaver, justice of the peace at his home in Esopus. Attendants were Jeannine Beaver and Ralph Coutant.

September Always Included
Dear Mrs. Post: When the bride-to-be's own mother is dead and she has a stepmother, doesn't the newspaper notice reading "daughter of Mr. John Smith and the late Mrs. Smith" ignore entirely the fact that there is a present Mrs. Smith? Doesn't it seem rather unkind to the stepmother?

Answer: The stepmother's name usually is included in the newspaper announcement, this way: "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith are announcing the engagement of his daughter, Miss Mary Louise Smith, to Mr. Henry Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Jones of Coldsprings. Miss Smith's mother, who died several years ago, was the former Miss Alice Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson." The wedding invitation reads:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith request the honor of your presence at the marriage of his daughter Mary Louise etc.

"Do you say, 'Excuse me' after coughing or sneezing in the middle of a sentence? Send for Mrs. Post's leaflet, 'Manners in Public,' obtainable for 5 cents in coin and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope, in care of the Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Lenten Services
In Local Churches
In the series of Lenten services held on Wednesday evenings at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck avenue, the fourth part of the Passion history of our Lord will be read in sections by the pastor, the Rev. O. Louis Schrieber, D.D. The penitential psalm "Miserere Mei, Deus Secundum" will be read responsively. The pastor will preach a sermonette on "With Jesus in the Court of the Chief Priest." The choir will sing "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" by Ambrose and the soloist will be Miss Betty La Tour. The congregational hymns to be sung are the traditional Lenten hymns. A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us.

★ AN OPEN LETTER
To all Homemakers—

KAPLAN FURNITURE COMPANY
"A Kingston Furniture Institution Since 1900"
12-14 EAST STRAND Phone 755
KINGSTON, N. Y.
March 10, 1947

Dear Homemakers:

Home is the essence of American life. It is there that character is formed, that personalities are created . . . and each individual reflects the mood of his home surroundings wherever he may be. If that home is thoughtfully arranged, pleasantly furnished, comfortably "livable" . . . if it is a happy setting for the daily life of your family . . . then that mood is confident and high-spirited.

Set the stage for happiness in your home as did Mr. and Mrs. Mark O. Cornwell who are shown below entering their new two-room G.I. home, which we are proud to say is KAPLAN furnished. Mr. and Mrs. Cornwell were the first couple to take possession of their new apartment at the Veterans Emergency housing project at Loughran Park. Mr. Cornwell is a veteran of three years in the army and gained the right to the apartment through the housing project point system.

Such manufacturers as Bigelow-Sanford, Simmons, Leonard, Glenwood, Lane, Philco, Randolph of Jamestown, Cushman and many other nationally known names are presented at KAPLAN'S.

So whether it be two rooms or twenty-two, we at KAPLAN'S are completely equipped to handle your home needs.

Yours very truly,
KAPLAN Furniture Company

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U.S. Patent Office)

By Jimmy Hatlo

A beggar who had just been refused by a gentleman on the street, asked, "How many children skinnings do you figure live on this street besides you?" "Besides me!" exploded the gentleman angrily. "Do you mean to insult me my man?" "All right, all right," said the beggar. "Then how many do you figure there are including you?"

Head Clerk: "I am sorry to hear of your partner's death. Would you like me to take his place?" Manager: "Very much, if you can get the undertaker to arrange it."

When Little Willie Did the "Trade Out"

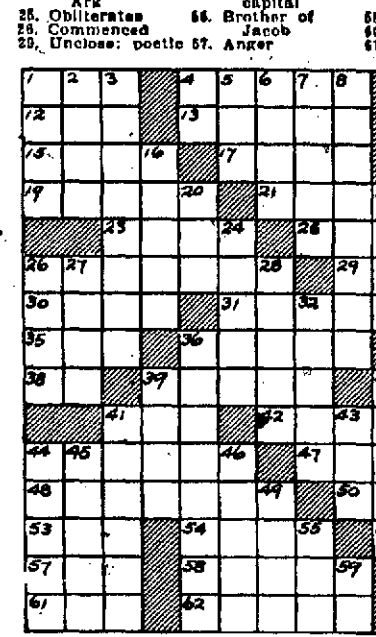

It was at a dance at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, where some candles dripped and mace, quite a puddle of grease on the floor. A gentleman standing at the door immediately took out his knife and his handkerchief and began scraping up the congealed grease, when a very fresh young gentleman in "our set" tapped the gentleman on the shoulder and said, rather pompously: "Say, old gentleman, you're interfering with my man!" "All right, all right," said the beggar. "Then how many do you figure there are including you?"

"Well, they won't," answered "Freshie." "Besides, you're not running the hotel." The "old" gentleman had gathered up all the grease by this time and, giving to answer to the last remark, left the room. "Freshie old guy," continued "Willie" after the dance; "that old man." "Not exactly fresh, but careful of his guests; that's all," answered a friend. "His guests?" repeated "Willie." "Yes," answered the man; "it all

And then didn't "Willie" fade away!

Mistakes tell us how to do better the next time.

About the time youngsters get to the age when they quit playing with blocks, dolls, and toy trains, they have reached the stage where they start playing with fire.

Well, anyway, the wages of sin are holding up fairly well.

Success comes from doing things better today than you did them yesterday.

YES MAN

My name is Kenneth Carter, I'm the "Yes" man at Personal Finance Co., that is—I'm the man who likes to say "Yes" to requests for Personal Loans.

You see—I'm the manager of our office—the man who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "Yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $250 or more is our ONLY business—that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "yes" to you.

Next time you can use a loan give me a chance to say "Yes"—won't you? I'll consider it a favor. SEE ME at PERSONAL FINANCE CO., of New York, 2nd floor, over Newberry's, 319 Wall St., or Phone me at Kingston 5470.

Open Monday, through Friday, 9 to 5. Closed Saturday. Loans made by mail in all surrounding towns.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Raymond Souvenir

Catskill, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—A trip to the dentist uncovered a 25-year-old mystery for Sgt. Paul Kelly of the Catskill police department.

X-rays revealed a piece of metal in Kelly's jaw. After probing, the dentist removed a B-B shot.

Kelly could not recall ever having been shot, but an older brother remembered that Paul had gotten in the way of a B-B shot when playing "cops and robbers" more than 25 years ago.

For Want of a Ladder
Kansas City, March 10 (AP)—Firemen at No. 25 station had to turn in an alarm for help in putting out a small blaze at their own firehouse.

A motorist discovered the blaze yesterday under the eaves of the two-story building, and the firemen found they needed a ladder.

But they had none. Theirs is a bumper station.

So, reluctantly, the firemen rang the gong, and four companies raced to their aid—bringing ladders.

Baggage Away
With First Task Fleet. Central Pacific, March 10 (AP)—The unhappy man in the Navy's current Pacific maneuvers doubtless is the flier from the Carrier Tarawa who stowed his suitcase in the bomb bay of his torpedo plane.

Denver, March 10 (AP)—Paul A. Ruston, Denver attorney, got a letter from Louis Berwill, Cleveland, Ohio, former fellow-soldier, asking him to defend a friend in Denver district court.

But Berwill didn't know that Ruston is hardly able to help out. He's deputy district attorney.

Dr. John C. Duff To Address Area Educators' Group

Dr. John Carr Duff, dean of men of the School of Education, New York University, will address the annual spring conference of the Ulster Educators April 21 at Marlborough, the organization announced today.

"Education and Social Competence" will be the theme of the conference. Area representatives are asked to collect questions on this topic and send them to Miss Mary E. Jenkins, of New Paltz, secretary, not later than March 15.

Albert Kingsley, Marlborough representative will notify others as to the luncheon plans for the conference. Reports of standing committees including that on salary-inquiry will be made. A teachers' hobby display will be arranged.

A second meeting of the Ulster Educators' executive meeting is slated for March 31 in Walkkill because of a small attendance at an earlier meeting in New Paltz. Many were unable to attend because of the storm at that time.

Miss Sarah V. Gulnick, the House of Delegates representative, requested members of each area to recommend their choice of a lay person for the next Alfred E. Smith award. She also welcomes suggestions from various areas for the choice of place outside of New York city for the fall zone conference of the New York State Teachers Association.

The educators went on record to request the Kingston steering committee to hold itself as an organization inactive but in readiness when needed.

Mrs. Arnetta Russell, Ulster Educators' representative to the steering committee, will report on its work at the meeting March 31, at Walkkill.

Seven Firemen Burned By Exploding Chemicals

New York, March 10 (AP)—Exploding chemicals burned seven firemen, four of them seriously, while they were "wetting down" a fire in an industrial building in Brooklyn late last night.

Assistant Fire Chief Edward Conway said the fire, of undetermined origin, was believed under control at 10:30 p. m. More than an hour later, chemicals stored in the basement of the five-story building exploded.

Clinging, burning particles of the chemicals struck the firemen on the face and hands. Attendees at St. Catherine's Hospital said one, Charles Ruehl, 34, was overcome by the fumes and the burning chemicals set fire to his clothing. His condition was serious.

The others burned seriously were Louis O'Diemo, 39, and Capt. Charles Stresser, 37, both taken to St. Catherine's, and Joseph Ikenson, 31, who was taken to Holy Family Hospital.

Conway said the building, at 14-18 Dunham Place, is occupied by several manufacturing firms. He said the fire started in the first floor chair factory of the C. H. Lewis Company.

Brazil's unit of money, the cruzero, is named for the South American Cross.

TO THE 2,788,987 NEW YORK MEMBERS OF BLUE CROSS

Your BLUE CROSS is the best protection

(ASSOCIATED HOSPITAL SERVICE)

ever made available

against the mounting cost of hospital bills

THERE never was a time when a person could "aford to be sick." Today, unavoidably, hospital costs are 40% higher than their 1943 level.

You and your family are particularly fortunate to be members of Blue Cross now, and your new contract, effective May 1st, will give you greater protection than ever before.

Only Blue Cross, of all the many plans, continues to assure you of full protection against your hospital bills—no matter how high rising costs may force them to be.

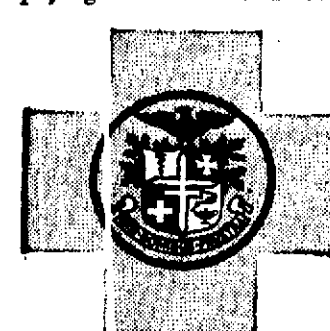

Here is the case of a Blue Cross member who was in the hospital for 16 days with a duodenal ulcer. The charges were:

Room and Board—Semi-private	16 days @ $9.00	$144.00
Laboratory		30.50
Operating Room		20.00
Anesthesia		25.00
Medications (including penicillin and glucose)		136.50
Total		$356.00

All these services were provided under the Blue Cross member's contract.

The patient had NO bill to pay

Compare this protection with plans which give a cash payment. Under an exclusive arrangement with hospitals, Blue Cross assures you specified types of care, regardless of cost. You can see for yourself that if you had been given a total cash payment of $50 or even $100 a week, it would not have gone far toward paying a bill like the one shown here.

Work-Wide Coverage

260 hospitals in the Greater New York Area provide hospital benefits under the Blue Cross contract. Throughout the nation there are 26,000,000 Blue Cross members. Wherever a Blue Cross member happens to be when taken ill, either in this country or abroad, Blue Cross provides hospital benefits.

Most bills PAID IN FULL

92% of Blue Cross Members in semi-private accommodations in member hospitals (except maternity cases) had their bills paid in full. And Blue Cross members are less likely to delay going to the hospital when the need arises. Furthermore, with Blue Cross, the relief from worry has healing value of its own.

Your Blue Cross contract assures you the following service benefits in member hospitals:

Bed and Board in semi-private accommodations (including special diets and general nursing). Use of operating rooms, cystoscopic rooms and equipment.

Laboratory and X-ray examinations consistent with the diagnosis and treatment of the condition for which hospitalization is required.

Drugs and medicines (except blood and plasma). Oxygen and equipment. Plaster casts, dressings. Anesthesia supplies and equipment; administration of anesthesia if given by a hospital employee.

Use of physiotherapeutic and cardiographic equipment; basal metabolic examinations.

All the above services are provided to you without charge for the first 21 days and thereafter at a 50% discount for 180 days, for each hospital admission for a different ailment—nearly seven months of protection.

Even greater protection in new contract (Effective May 1, 1947)

Private room—In a private room you receive all the services listed here; during the 21-day period you pay only the difference between the price of the room you select and $6 a day allowed by Blue Cross. During the 180-day period you pay 50% of the charges for services listed—other than room and board—and the difference between the price of the room selected and $3 a day allowed by Blue Cross.

Maternity Care—For those enrolled on a group basis, with a family contract, the maternity benefit is $80 (increased from $60) for normal delivery. For termination of pregnancy without childbirth, all the services listed above apply for 21 days and at a 50% discount for 180 days thereafter.

New Rates for far greater protection

Effective May 1st, group protection will cost the individual only $1, the husband and wife $2.20 and the family (including maternity benefits) $2.72 per month—increases of only 5¢, 15¢ and 18¢ per week.

The chances are 1 in 10 that you will go to the hospital this year. If there are 5 in your family, then the chances are 1 in 2 that one of you will go.

You and your family cannot afford to be without Blue Cross. If there are members of your family who do not have this protection, send in the coupon for full details about how to join Blue Cross.

TO PEOPLE NOT NOW BLUE CROSS MEMBERS

Non-Group Membership... Are you under 65 years of age—self-employed, unemployed, or working in an establishment of less than 5 employees, and therefore not eligible for Blue Cross Group Membership at the group rates shown above? If so, apply for non-group membership by filling in and mailing the coupon below.

Maroons Clip Liberty, 53-41, for DUSO League Championship

Last Period Rally Decides Close Game; Weaver Gets 19

Pulling ahead with a sudden burst of scoring power midway in the fourth period in its playoff game with Liberty Saturday night, Kingston High went on to wrap up its second straight DUSO League basketball championship with a 53 to 41 conquest before 1,000 frenzied fans who packed the Middletown High School court.

It was Kingston's 13th straight victory of the season, and the second win in a row over the Redskins. The Maroons open their play in the Section 9 scholastic basketball tournament Tuesday night at Spring Valley.

Field for College Post-Season Games Nearly Completed

New York, March 10 (AP)—The cards for college basketball's blue ribbon events, the N.C.A.A. and national invitation tourney, virtually were completed today with selection of North Carolina State and Bradley to the N.I.T.

This is the tournament picture: Eastern N.C.A.A.—District One—Italy Crows (23-31); District Two—unnamed Columbian inside track; District Three—Navy (16-1); District Four—unnamed. Six teams under consideration. Wisconsin (15-5) first choice. Notre Dame (20-4), Loyola of Chicago (20-9), De Paul (16-9), Illinois (15-5) and Indiana (10-8).

Western N.C.A.A.—District Five—Oklahoma (20-6) or St. Louis (18-9) whichever wins playoff game March 17; District Six—Texas (24-1), Southwest Conference champ; District Seven—Wyoming (22-4); District Eight—Oregon State (27-4), Pacific Coast Conference champion.

National Invitations: Six teams, Kentucky (32-2), West Virginia (18-1), Duquesne (21-1), Utah (16-5), North Carolina State (24-4) and Bradley of Peoria, Ill. (25-5) have been named to the Madison Square Garden tournament.

The 32-team field of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament gets under way today in Kansas City as cagers from 28 states jammed into that town. Two spots still remain to be filled.

Hoppe Still Leads World's Billiard Tournament Play

Chicago, March 10 (AP)—The world's championship three-cushion billiard tournament entered its sixth day today with the "old master" 59-year old Willie Hoppe of White Plains, N. Y., pacing the field of 10 culestas with a perfect record of four straight wins. Meanwhile, Jay Bozeman of Vallejo, Calif., and Pencil Phillips of Philadelphia and Art Rubin of Brooklyn, all tied for second place with three wins and one defeat—continue their sharp-shooting to break the deadlock.

Kramer Names Successor

New York, March 10 (AP)—Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, who added the national indoor tennis championship to his turf court title over the week-end, plans to quit the amateur game after this year and already has his successor as American court king all picked out. He is Young Bob Falkenberg, also of Los Angeles, who advanced to the finals of the 44th annual indoor tournament here Saturday only to go down before Kramer's smashing attack, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

Schenectady Stops Kaye Sportswear on Sunday Afternoon

The 12-match winning streak of the Kaye Sportswear club came to an abrupt stop in Schenectady Sunday afternoon when Martha's Beauty Shop kepters of the Dorplan city snatched out a 168-pin victory over the local female trundlers.

Schenectady took a sizeable lead in the first game blasting out an 880 game to Kaye's 771. Sparked by Rose Schatzel's middle effort, 204, Kaye took the second game by 886-859 but Schenectady bounced back with 885 in Kingston's 819 to clinch the match with a total pinage of 2624. Kayes amassed 2456.

Rose Schatzel, Evelyn Moore and public Betty Boyce led Kingston with 554, 524, and 502. Mrs. Schatzel posted the lone 200 game on the squad.

M. Christian and J. Lewis spearheaded the Schenectady club in its victory over Kayes with 580 and 578. Lewis hit a 223 singleton and Christian fired a 222 game. E. Townsend posted a 217 solo for Schenectady.

Dairymen Win Two

Jones Dairy No. 1 came through the week-end schedule with flying colors. The dairymen scored a double win over the Middletown Gus Lunch team in a Hudson Valley League match Saturday night and then defeated the Welcoming Sunday afternoon by 128 pins Sunday afternoon.

Johnny Ferraro and Harold Broskie sparked the winners with 587 triple and 243 single respectively. R. DeLaney fired a 342 series for Middletown.

Ferraro again led the dairymen in Schenectady Sunday with a blazing 689 triple put together on 222-201-266. Freddie Rice hammered 214-605. Santora had a triple for Schenectady.

The scores of the above matches will be published in Tuesday's Freeman.

BOWLING

Electrol League

Redskins Are Late For Playoff, Also In Final Outcome

Coach Jack George's Liberty cagers arrived late at the Middletown gym Saturday night probably sensing what was to happen when they collided with G. Warren's Redskins Maroon and White five. The Redskins sauntered across the floor about 7:20 and didn't appear in uniform until about 7:40. The game was originally slated to commence at 7:30 but due to Liberty's tardy ball club the start was delayed until 8:10 o'clock.

Later in the dressing room while recovering from his mental wounds, George told scribes that the team did get a late start from Liberty and upon arrival in Middletown was delayed about 25 minutes. Liberty's supporters were standing in line, however, when the doors were opened at 6:45.

Complete gloom shrouded the Liberty dressing room following the game. Coach George was dejected, the players were all the others were in a happy mood in the Kingston locker room. Coach Kias, who went through an uncomfortable time of it for most of the evening, was all smiles while chatting with Lou Horan and Al Chase from Port Jervis, and C. Everett Stevens, Newburgh.

The players themselves were jubilant but didn't indulge in any unusual celebration. Perhaps they were eyeing the coming Section 9 scholastic tournament which opens in Spring Valley Tuesday night.

Middletown's caddy gymnasium, jacking in only enough seating capacity, was filled to the brim with standees lining up both ends of the court and along either side-line as well. Approximately 1,000 rabid fans jammed the hall for the titular clash.

Kingston's rooters were out-yelled by Liberty fans in the first half but made up for the lack during that hectic second half. The school's cheerleaders, consisting of Betty Short, Jean Bilyou, Rita Stoudt, Eleanor Bayer, Muriel Hoyt, Sandra Hanson and Jackie Christiansa kept things going on the Kingston side.

Three chartered buses ransported Maroon followers to the game but many made the trip via private vehicles.

Ray Woodard, chairman of the ticket sale, said that 391 of the 400 allotted tickets were sold.

George, Glasco, wound up, his DUSO League career in the game Saturday night. Only he and Paul Kaman, reserve forward, will be missing when the Klismen open up the 1947-48 season. Liberty loses Don Huffmire.

Officiating was well handled by Joe Palone and Chet Dell. Dell missed a couple of plays during the game but on the whole both held the game in complete control.

Billiard Results

Bob East added another victory to his record Sunday night by defeating Ralph Gardner 125 to 08 in another city-wide billiard tournament match at Nick Kasch's Academy, 297 Wall street. East posted a high run of 29. Gardner hit 13.

Eddie Benoit and Frank Schilling are paired for tonight's match which starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Largest Boxing Crowd

Havana, March 10 (AP)—The largest crowd in Havana boxing history—25,000 who paid close to $40,000—saw World Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis meat-axe two sparring partners in an exhibition here last night. When Louis entered the ring he was presented with a Cuban flag and the Cuban and United States national anthems were played. The champ and his party are to leave by plane for Los Angeles tomorrow.

Sparando Wins Classic

Syracuse, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—Tony Sparando of Woodside, L. I., is the winner of the New York state bowling classic. Sparando's closing four-game spurt gave him a total of 3,207, or 125 better than Joe Falcara of Lawrence who placed second. Sparando was awarded a $1,200 purse by the Bowling Proprietors' Association, sponsors of the tournament.

3 Steals on 3 Pitches

Chicago (AP)—Andrew Sku ski, who will get a chance to make the Chicago White Sox outfield in spring training at Pasadena, once stole second, third and home on consecutive pitches to win a ball game for Troy in the old New York-Penn League in 1937.

Three Loop Games Are Scheduled for Auditorium Court

Maddens-Aborns to Meet in Return Contest;
First Tilt Starts at 7 O'Clock

A triple-header basketball bill of regular City Y.M.C.A. League games is on tap at the municipal auditorium tonight starting at 7 o'clock with the Hustler-Gulnick Gang contest.

The second attraction, listed for 8 o'clock, will bring together the Potters and fast-improving Pioneer A. C. Both quintets are tied for third place.

The 9 o'clock tussle is a replay between the Madmen and Aborns. These clubs met February 10 and Aborns won. Later, however, it was learned that Andy Murphy was ineligible and a return game was necessary.

Aborns are in second place with five wins and one defeat. The Aces are in that tie for third with five victories and one setback.

Tuesday's triple-header at the "Y" court also is vital at this late stage of the race. Aborns will collide with the Marines at 7 o'clock. The big encounter is slated for 8 o'clock when the undefeated Chez Emile cagers battle the V.F.W. five. The 9 o'clock contest will bring together the Rienzors and Gulnicks.

2:35.2 minutes. Miss Fraser did two-mile women's course in 2:11.4. Seventeen men entrants broke Dick Durrance's course record of 2:56.1.

Maroons Clip Liberty, 53-41, for DUSO League Championship

Last Period Rally Decides Close Game; Weaver Gets 19

Pulling ahead with a sudden burst of scoring power midway in the fourth period in its playoff game with Liberty Saturday night, Kingston High went on to wrap up its second straight DUSO League basketball championship with a 53 to 41 conquest before 1,000 frenzied fans who packed the Middletown High School court.

It was Kingston's 13th straight victory of the season, and the second win in a row over the Redskins. The Maroons open their play in the Section 9 scholastic basketball tournament Tuesday night at Spring Valley.

Field for College Post-Season Games Nearly Completed

New York, March 10 (AP)—The cards for college basketball's blue ribbon events, the N.C.A.A. and national invitation tourney, virtually were completed today with selection of North Carolina State and Bradley to the N.I.T.

This is the tournament picture: Eastern N.C.A.A.: District One—Holy Cross (23-3).

District Two—unnamed. Columbia has inside track.

District Three—Navy (16-1).

District Four—unnamed. Six teams under consideration. Wisconsin (15-5) first choice. Notre Dame (20-4), Loyola of Chicago (20-9), De Paul (16-9), Illinois (15-5) and Indiana (10-8).

Other candidates: Western N.C.A.A.: District Five—Oklahoma (20-6) or St. Louis (18-9) whichever wins playoff game March 17.

District Six—Texas (24-1), Southwest Conference champ.

District Seven—Worming (22-4). Big Seven titleholder.

District Eight—Oregon State (27-4). Pacific Coast Conference champion.

National invitations: Six teams, Kentucky (32-2), Virginia (18-1), Duquesne (21-1), Utah (16-5), North Carolina State (24-4) and Bradley of Peoria, Ill. (25-5) have been named to the Madison Square Garden tournament.

The 32-team field of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament gets under way today in Kansas City as cagers from 26 states jammed into that town. Two spots still remain to be filled.

Hoppe Still Leads World's Billiard Tournament Play

Chicago, March 10 (AP)—The world's championship three-cushion billiard tournament entered its sixth day today with the "old master" 59-year old Willie Hoppe of White Plains, N. Y., pacing the field of 10 custers with a perfect record of four straight wins.

Meanwhile, Jay Bozeman of Vallejo, Calif., Andy Ponzi of Philadelphia and Art Rubin of Brooklyn, all tied for second place with three wins and one defeat—continue their sharp shooting to break the deadlock.

Kramer Names Successor

New York, March 10 (AP)—Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, who added the national indoor tennis championship to his turf court title over the week-end, plans to quit the amateur game after this year and he already has his successor as American court king all picked out. He is Young Bob Falkenberg, also of Los Angeles, who advanced to the finals of the 44th annual indoor tournament here Saturday only to go down before Kramer's smashing attack, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

Schenectady Stops Kaye Sportswear on Sunday Afternoon

The 12-match winning streak of the Kaye Sportswear club came to an abrupt stop in Schenectady Sunday afternoon when Martha's Beauty Shop kleggers of the Dorplan city smashed out a 168-pin victory over the local female trundlers.

Schenectady took a sizeable lead in the first game blasting out an 880 game to Kaye's 771. Sparked by Rose Schatzel's middle effort of 204, Kaye took the second game by 866-859 but Schenectady bounced back with 885 in Kingston's 819 to clinch the match with a total pinage of 2624. Kayes amassed 2456.

Rose Schatzel, Evelyn Moore and petite Betty Boyce led Kingston with 554, 524, and 502. Mrs. Schatzel posted the lone 200 game on the squad.

M. Christian and J. Lewis spearheaded the Schenectady club in its victory over Kayes with 580 and 578. Lewis hit a 223 single and Christian a 222 game. F. Townsend posted a 217 solo for Schenectady.

Dairymen Win Two

Jones Dairy No. 1 came through the week-end schedule with flying colors. The dairymen scored a double win over the Middletown Gus Lunch team in a Hudson Valley League match Saturday night and then defeated the Welcoming Inn of Schenectady by 128 pins Sunday afternoon.

Johnny Ferraro and Harold Broskie sparked the winners with a 587 triple and 243 single respectively. R. DeLaney fired a 542 series for Middletown.

Ferraro again led the dairymen in Schenectady Sunday with a blazing 689 triple put together on 222-201-266. Freddie Rice hammered 214-605. Santora had a triple for Schenectady.

The scores of the above matches will be published in Tuesday's Freeman.

BOWLING

Electrol League

Jim Sweeney and Ellsworth divided honors in the Electrol League matches Friday night at the Central Recreation alley with a 592 triple and 214 single. Sweeney topped his triple with a 204 single. Ellsworth's three-trime was 533.

Double Clean Sweep

Tucson, Ariz.—(AP)—Eddie Bockman, promising looking young Cleveland Indian infielder, recalls, a game for Joplin, Mo., back in 1940 when he batted in six runs in one inning. He made two triples, each with the bases loaded.

Redskins Are Late For Playoff, Also In Final Outcome

Coach Jack George's Liberty cagers arrived late at the Middletown gym Saturday night probably sensing what was to happen when they collided with G. Warren Kias' Maroon and White five. The Redskins sauntered across the floor about 7:20 and didn't appear in uniform until about 7:40. The game was originally slated to commence at 7:30 but due to Liberty's tardy hall club the start was delayed until 8:10 o'clock.

Later in the dressing room while recovering from his mental wounds, George told scribes that the team did get a late start from Liberty and upon arrival in M2 downtown was delayed about 15 minutes. Liberty's supporters were standing in line, however, when the doors were opened at 6:45.

Complete gloom shrouded the Liberty dressing room following the game. Coach George was bemoaning the loss of Charles Hamland and Al Benjamin who were evicted on five personal fouls. "If they had stayed in," George commented, "the outcome would have been a lot closer."

Meanwhile, players, coaches, writers, managers and all the others were in a happy mood in the Kingston locker room. Coach Kias, who went through an uncomfortable time of it for most of the evening, was all smiles while chatting with Lou Horsemann and Al Chay from Port Jervis and C. Everett Stevens, Newburgh.

The players themselves were jubilant but didn't indulge in any unusual celebration. Perhaps they were eyeing the coming Section 9 scholastic tournament which opens in Spring Valley Tuesday night.

Middletown's classy gymnasium, lacking in only enough seating capacity, was filled to the brim with standees lining up both ends of the court and along either sideline as well. Approximately 1,000 rabid fans jammed the hall for the titular clash.

Kingston's rooters were out-yelled by Liberty fans in the first half but made up for the lack during that hectic second half. The school's cheerleaders, consisting of Betty Short, Jean Bilyou, Rita Stoudt, Eleanor Bayer, Muriel Hoyt, Sandra Hanson and Jackie Christians kept things going on the Kingston side.

Three chartered buses transported Maroon followers to the game but many made the trip via private vehicles.

Ray Woodward, chairman of the ticket sale, said that 391 of the 400 allotted ducats were sold.

George Glasser wound up his DUSO League career in the game Saturday night. Only he and Paul Kaman, reserve forward, will be missing when the Kiasmen open up the 1947-48 season. Liberty loses Don Huffmire.

Officiating was well handled by Joe Palone and Chet Dell. Dell missed a couple of plays during the game but on the whole both held the game in complete control.

Billiard Results

Bob East added another victory to his record Sunday night by defeating Ralph Gardner 125 to 108 in another city-wide billiard tournament match at Nick Kaslich's Academy, 297 Wall street. East posted a high run of 29. Gardner had 13.

Eddie Benoit and Frank Schilling are paired for tonight's match which starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Largest Boxing Crowd

Havana, March 10 (AP)—The largest crowd in Havana boxing history—25,000 who paid close to $40,000—saw World Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis meat-axe two sparring partners in an exhibition here last night. When Louis entered the ring he was presented with a Cuban flag, and the Cuban and United States national anthems were played. The champ and his party are to leave by plane for Los Angeles tomorrow.

Sparado Wins Classic

Syracuse, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—Tony Sparado of Woodside, L. I., is the winner of the New York state bowling classic. Sparado's closing four-game spurt gave him a total of 3,207, or 125 better than Joe Falcaro of Lawrence who placed second. Sparado was awarded a $1,200 purse by the Bowling Proprietors' Association, sponsors of the tournament.

8 Steals on 3 Pitches

Chicago—(AP)—Andrew Skurski, who will get a chance to make the Chicago White Sox outfield in spring training at Pasadena, once stole second, third and home on consecutive pitches to win a ball game for Troy in the old New York-Penn League in 1937.

Bread Prices Rise As Wheat Goes Up

Chicago, March 10 (AP)—Soaring wheat prices were hitting the consumer today with bread, undergoing hikes in several cities throughout the country.

Bread, the traditional staff of life, has been raised from a cent to three cents a loaf in many of the principle cities as wheat at the nation's major grain terminals brings the highest prices since 1920.

An Atlanta grocery concern with several retail stores announced the sharpest advance reported, a three-cent boost to 17 cents for a 24-ounce loaf. In New York, New England, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Mich., Cleveland, Indianapolis, Ind., and Los Angeles the consumers already have been tagged for a cent or two more on each loaf. In other cities, bakers said increases were inevitable.

In the past seven weeks wheat has soared around 50 cents a bushel. Flour prices have been advanced in line with the wheat advance. Bread had escaped until today because bakers were using flour purchased before the current advance started.

Purchases of wheat and flour by government agencies for shipment to food deficit areas abroad were considered primarily responsible for grain experts for the sharp price advance. Box car shortages were believed to be a contributing factor.

Police Kill Three Men On Robbery Tipoff

Providence, R. I., March 10 (AP)—Three men were shot and killed early Sunday morning by four crack police officers who had been tipped off in advance of a planned robbery of a Providence restaurant and had waited for the men for three hours.

Police identified the men as Joseph Conti, 22, of Providence; William J. Muise, 21, of Stoneham, Mass., and Joseph R. Fitzsimmons, 35, of Groveland, Mass., who was released from Massachusetts state prison Feb. 20 after serving six years for breaking and entering. The men had forced a window of the Howard Johnson restaurant and were walking down a corridor when the waiting officers challenged them. After one of the three fired two wild shots the officers, all marksmen, opened fire with a riot gun and pistols, fatally wounding two of the men. The third, also wounded, was shot dead after he attempted to escape by diving through a window.

City Fighting Subsidies
Lahore, India, March 10 (AP)—Communal fighting subsided in Punjab's larger cities today as British airborne troops, with orders to shoot rioters on sight, patrolled trouble areas in this restive province. Reports from outlying districts however, said that fighting had spread out in the villages and that Hindu properties were being looted.

Grenade Hurlled at President Roxas

Had Concluded Speech In Favor of American Parity Amendment

By SPENCER DAVIS

Manila, Tuesday, March 11 (AP)—A hand grenade exploded within ten feet of President Manuel A. Roxas and other Filipino notables on a speaking platform in front of 50,000 persons late last night, but all except a press photographer escaped injury.

Roxas had just concluded his final speech in favor of the American parity amendment on which a plebiscite is being held today. He was being congratulated by Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippines representative to the United Nations, when the grenade was hurled by an unidentified person in the throng in Plaza Miranda.

Police early today detained five persons for questioning. A spokesman at Malacanang Palace, the presidential residence, credited Jose Avelino, president of the Senate, with kicking the missile away just before it exploded. Romulo said it rolled about ten feet and struck the photographer in the back. Extent of his injury was not fully determined.

Romulo, who was authority for the crowd estimate, said the vast throng immediately stampeded and "disappeared like magic," despite police efforts to cordon off the area.

"I thought the explosion was a firecracker until I saw blood on the photographer's back," said Romulo. The president's wife, son, Gerardo, and daughter, Ruby, were on the platform. They escaped injury but were described as "considerably shaken."

ual stockholder in the corporation and prior to his enlistment in the coast guard he was general manager of the concern. Benjamin Gottfried, an executive of the Gottfried Baking Corporation and elder brother of the defendant, testified that George Long, former general manager of the Ellenville plant, admitted to him that he (Long) had embezzled a large sum of money while working at the plant, and that Harold Gottfried, when he learned of the incident, appeared much upset.

Frederick Block, assistant United States attorney, introduced in evidence invoices of the Hanscom Baking Corporation of New York city, indicating that the Gottfried family has a large financial interest, had rented several automobiles during the construction of the Sheepshead Bay projects at $20 per week each.

Benjamin Gottfried, on cross-examination, said that "Harold eventually gave the trucks to the War Production Board."

Publishers Will Hold Conference on Newsprint

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) expressed confidence today that a group of large newspaper publishers can solve the newsprint shortage at a conference here Thursday. "Some of the most important publishers in the nation have accepted the invitation," Capehart told a reporter. "I believe the industry itself can handle its own problem and keep the government out of it."

The conference, he said, will discuss plans to establish a voluntary pool of newsprint that will be allocated to "hardship" cases. Capehart said he already has acceptances from Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, Paul Patterson of the Baltimore Sun, Julius Ochs Adler of the New York Times and Frank E. Gannett of the Gannett newspapers.

R. M. Fowler, president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, also has agreed to attend, along with representatives of newspaper trade associations.

A.F.L. Won't Collaborate

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The A.F.L.'s international labor committee turned thumbs down today on collaborating with Argentina's labor movement because, the A. F. L. group said, it has become a "political arm" of the Peron government. The A.F.L. had considered asking Argentina to join in forming an inter-American federation of labor until a delegation returned from a visit to Buenos Aires "thoroughly disgusted" at what it had seen.

Veterans Want Only Residential Building

Albany, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—The American veterans committee wants Governor Dewey to declare a housing emergency and place restrictions on non-residential construction.

An A.V.C. legislative conference, meeting here over the week-end, also urged, in a statement sent to Dewey and legislators, that ceilings under the state's emergency rent control law be established as of October, 1946.

The conference asked legislative authorization of a referendum on a $500,000,000 bond issue for low cost housing and an additional $55,000,000 for the veterans' emergency housing fund.

national relations in Europe and all the world over."

The magazine then warned the west against "atomic diplomacy" and trying to dictate to the Soviet Union; accused the U. S. and Britain of violating the Potsdam pact on Germany, and labeled as "blackmail" the advocacy of a western policy of firmness toward Russia.

Demands Reparations
The New Times further lambasted U. S. and British proposals to federalize Germany and demanded unification. Likewise, it renewed demands for reparations which the west opposes. These are among the greatest issues here.

The U. S. aides attacked were John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs expert; Gen. Clark, advisor on Austria, and Maj. Gen. William H. Draper, Jr., economic advisor to the U. S. Military Government in Germany.

The article also assailed U. S. and British opposition to Soviet removal of alleged German assets from Austria.

While the article might be mere fist shaking, it was regarded as putting Molotov tactically in an uncompromising position—such as Marshall likewise held on fundamental issues such as reparations, the political future of Germany and the early and complete independence of Austria.

The Soviet Union officially lifted censorship of conference copy today, and the heaviest file of unscrupulous stories in modern times was pouring from Moscow to the world. Tight censorship was kept on non-conference news.

Scotia Model Railroaders Show Off Their System

Model railroaders from Johnstown, Amsterdam, Schenectady, Albany, and Kingston were entertained Saturday evening, March 8, by the Scotia Model Railroad Club at Scotia.

The evening's program featured operations on the Scotia club's o gauge miniature railroad system, motion pictures of meetings of the Northeastern Region of the National Model Railroad Association held at both Kingston and Hartford, Conn., and refreshments.

Members of the Kingston Model Railroad Club who attended the Saturday meeting were: Henry C. Page, Henry P. Eighmey, Joseph D. Farrell, William H. Marrett, Hudson Cramer, Jr., Kenneth Martin, Andrew Magalindo, and Warren Simmons.

Rowe Re-opening Last of This Week

John Street Shoe Store Enlarged; Separate Child's Section

Work of modernizing the shoe store of the Rowe Shoe Company, Inc., at 34 John street has been completed and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week James L. Rowe, president of the company, invites the public to a grand re-opening to inspect the improvements.

A 38-foot addition has been built at the rear of the building, practically doubling the original floor space and providing room for a separate children's department. The entire interior of the store has been remodeled and redecorated.

A new kentele asphalt floor tile has been laid in modernistic black and white design with an 18-inch black border, the walls have been re-decorated in a contrasting rose tint and the woodwork has been painted a light walnut hue. At the entrance of the store arranged in the tile flooring is the name "Rowes" in large white lettering. Wilton floor runners in a contrasting color have been laid in the aisles.

New Shoe Display
There has been a re-arrangement of the shoe display cases and the walls above the display cases have been brought out flush to give a recessed display case effect.

Mr. Rowe, who is observing the fourteenth year of business at the John street address, has also refitted the store with new chrome and red leather chairs and fitting stools and placed new mirrors on the wall in keeping with the modernistic design. Wicker chairs formerly used have been refitted to match the woodwork and new contrasting slip covers added and these chairs will be used in the children's department.

The men's and women's department will be at the front of the store and a hosiery department located mid-way in the store near the stairway which leads to the large storage space in the basement where additional stocks of shoes are carried.

Three Firemen

dry kilns, burned through the floor of the kiln and damaged a dry kiln car of lumber. It was thought the spread of the fire of the kiln was aided by a blower fan in the kiln room. Two sprinkler heads fused in the boiler room and helped to hold the fire in check. Two hydrant lines were laid by the firemen one to the boiler room, the other to the roof, where the suction line terminates at the sawdust collector. The fire was checked effectively at this danger spot and a more disastrous blaze was averted.

The boiler had been fired only a few minutes before the fire was discovered.

Says Damage Slight
The maple block factory which manufactures accessories for butcher shops is a one-story brick building owned by Morris Monashefsky, who operates the business. Mr. Monashefsky said actual fire damage to the plant was only slight. Operations will not be halted as a result of the damage created by the fire.

Oppose Request
Washington, March 10 (AP)—John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers today opposed a government request that the Supreme Court issue immediately an order carrying out its decision of last Thursday in the coal strike case. The court upheld contempt convictions of Lewis and the U.M.W. for disregarding a U. S. District Court order against last fall's coal strike. It sustained a $10,000 fine against Lewis and reduced from $3,500,000 to $700,000 one against the union.
